Robert Henry Thurston,1878 A Brief History of the Age of Steam Thomas Crump,2007 In 1710 an obscure Devon ironmonger Thomas Newcomen invented a machine with a pump driven by coal used to extract water from mines Over the next two hundred years the steam engine would be at the heart of the industrial revolution that changed the fortunes of nations Passionately written and insightful A Brief History of the Age of Steam reveals not just the lives of the great inventors such as Watts Stephenson and Brunel but also tells a narrative that reaches from the US to the expansion of China India and South America and shows how the steam engine changed the world

Maritime History as Global History Maria Fusaro,Amélia Polónia,2017-10-18 This study aims to provide new insights into the connections between maritime history and global history It demonstrates the significance of maritime activity as a conduit of global exchange by examining local national and international interdependencies and trade networks and a broad range of time periods geographical areas and various sub divisions of maritime historical research It is composed of ten essays with an introductory chapter and concluding chapter The first five essays discuss the effects globalisation on shipping in the early modern period the following three discuss maritime transportation and the economics of industrialisation from the nineteenth century to the present day the next discusses the impact of global entrepreneurialism on maritime history the penultimate discusses the connections and variables between maritime and global history and the concluding chapter examines the theoretical assumptions surrounding the two disciplines using the globalisation of Early Modern Spain as a case study to do so The study demonstrates that the core strength of maritime history is its essential place in global history and that the process of globalisation began at sea

A Short History of the Steam Engine H. W . Dickinson,2022-01-26 First published in 1938 this volume details the steam engine as the most dynamic factor in the Industrial Revolution freeing humanity from their age long dependence upon the power of water wind and animals or of their own muscles Itself the offspring of coal and iron it made possible the sinking of deeper mines and the casting and forging of greater quantities of iron from which machines were constructed to be powered by steam in the factories of the rapidly growing industrial areas Soon the mass produced goods from these mills were transported by steam locomotives and steamships all over the world This was the Age of Steam Even today steam turbines still drive the dynamos of our electric power stations whether fuelled by coal oil or nuclear energy Much has been written about the steam engine but this book first produced by the late Dr H W Dickinson just before the second World War is still the best short account It describes developments from the pioneering efforts of Savery and Newcomen through the achievements of Watt and Trevethick down to Parsons and modern times
