

EMOTIONAL AND BEHAVIOR PROBLEM SCALE-SECOND EDITION (EBPS-2)

Stephen B. McCarney, Ed.D. & Tamara J. Arthaud, Ph.D.

Copyright © 2004

The Emotional and Behavior Problem Scale-Second Edition (EBPS-2) was developed to contribute to the identification and service delivery for emotionally disturbed/behaviorally disordered children and adolescents from 7 through 18 years-of-age. Two interpretations of the items on the scale are provided.

The Theoretical Interpretation is based on the defined subset of emotional disturbances (EDs) and represents an educational interpretation. Each subscale is associated with one of the five characteristics of emotional disturbances contained in the national definition.

The EBPS-2 Behavioral Interpretation subscales are:

- Learning Problems
- Interpersonal Relations
- Inappropriate Behavior
- Unhappy/Depressed, and
- Physical Sensations/Tyres

The Empirical Interpretation of the items on the scale represents a factor analysis of meaning of the items into five "domains" and represents a more clinical perception of the items contained on the scale. Each subscale is associated with one of the "domains."

The EBPS-2 Empirical Interpretation subscales are:

- Social Aggression/Conduct Disorder
- Social Emotional Withdrawal/Depression
- Learning/Comprehension Disorder
- Involvement/Inappropriate, and
- Aggression/Self-Harm/Anxiety

During development, the EBPS-2 was subjected to field testing by 807 teachers from grade levels K-12 which resulted in the 59 items included on the final version of the scale. The EBPS-2 National Version was standardized on a total of 3,980 students distributed across all grade levels, K-12. Demographic characteristics of the standardized population represented national percentages of gender, race, ethnicity, geographic area, and magnitude of poverty.

Internal consistency of the EBPS-2 National Version exceeded .70 for each subscale. The one-point reliability correlations coefficient was .80 for the total score. Coefficients for inter-rater reliability for the subscales ranged from .26 to .51 for all age levels. Construct validity was established through the initial development process. The EBPS-2 is compared to the Behavior Evaluation Scale-National Version (BES-NV), Form 4, and the Oregon Behavior Rating Scale - School Form (ORSB - School Form) (ORSB - S.F., 1999) as measures of construct validity. Each subscale received a .700 level of correlation when compared to the BES-NV or ORSB-S.F. and the Oregon Behavior Rating Scale - National Form. Item performance correlated positively with total scale performance, further substantiating the initial construction of the scale as a measure of emotional disturbances.

The EBPS-2 uses binomial-scaled responses. Each item on the EBPS-2 is rated on a two-point scale from (1) NOT AT ALL PROBLEMATIC to (2) MORE THAN ONE TIME. Following completion of the EBPS-2, one page of scoring keys is provided. Scoring keys for each item indicating the frequency and severity of the behavior, subscale raw score (items of the frequency strings for each subscale), subscale standard scores for comparison to national norms for comparison scores, total raw scores for comparison scores, and a percentile-to-grade level of behavior on all items included within the total score. Using the subscale standard scores, a profile of the student's behavior across the subscales is constructed for both the Theoretical and Empirical Interpretations.

The EBPS-2 takes approximately 20 minutes to complete and can be completed by anyone familiar with the student. The alternate teacher, guidance counselor, or other school personnel. The EBPS-2 consists of manual and Home Version, rating forms and technical manual, and the Emotional and Behavior Problem Scale (EBP and Intervention Manual).

The Emotional and Behavior Problem Scale (EBP and Intervention Manual) (EBP pages, © 2004) includes goals, objectives, and intervention strategies for each behavior on the scale and was designed for the constructive development of the student's EBP and intervention program. The EBPS-2 (EBP and Intervention Manual) program provides raw scores to standard scores and total scale-scores and percentiles. The computer program for the Emotional and Behavior Problem Scale (EBP and Intervention Manual) provides an individualized report of EBP goals, objectives, and intervention strategies selected for a student.

The EBPS-2 is a validly test designed to meet school personnel by making diagnosis, placement, and programming decisions for emotionally disturbed/behaviorally disordered children and adolescents. The scoring reliability and validity of the scale make the EBPS-2 an efficient and effective measure of assessing student behavior for educational decision making. The Emotional and Behavior Problem Scale (EBP and Intervention Manual) is a must for any school personnel and intervention and intervention strategies for emotionally disturbed/behaviorally disordered students.
