Milone, 2013-11-11 Have you ever stopped at a construction project on the way to your office and the day's astrophysics Remember the other onlookers folks just enjoying the spectacle as we all do in following developments away from our areas of active work We are excited and thrilled when the Hubble Space Telescope discovers an Einstein Cross when the marvelous pulsars enter our lives and when computer scientists put a little box on our desk that outperforms yesterday's giant machines We are free to make use of such achievements and we respect the imagination and discipline needed to bring them about just as onlookers respect the abilities and planning needed to create a building they may later use After all each of us contributes in our own areas as best we can In addition to the serious onlookers there will be passers by who take only a casual look at the site They may use the building later but have little or no interest in its construction and give no thought to the resources needed to bring it to completion Upon arriving at work those persons write astronomy and astrophysics books at various levels in which they must say something about these binary stars Usually a page or two will do and the emphasis is on the MLR mass luminosity radius data obtained only from binaries     The photometric observation of eclipsing variable stars Norman P.
