Berlin An Architectural History An Architectural Design Profile:

Berlin Doug Clelland, 1983 Berlin Architectural Design, 1983 Douglas Sirk, Aesthetic Modernism and the Culture of Modernity Victoria L. Evans, 2017-05-24 The first truly interdisciplinary analysis to link Douglas Sirk's striking visual aesthetic to key movements in twentieth century art and architecture this book reveals how the exaggerated artifice of Sirk's formal style emerged from his detailed understanding of the artistic debates that raged in 1920s Europe and the post war United States With detailed case studies of Final Chord and All That Heaven Allows Victoria Evans demonstrates how Sirk attempted to dissolve the boundaries of cinema by assimilating elements of avant garde art architecture and design into the colour composition and setting of many of his most well known films Treating Sirk's oeuvre as a continuum between his German and American periods Evans argues that his mise en scene was the result of an interdisciplinary transnational dialogue and illuminates the broader cultural context in which his films appeared by establishing links between archival documents Modernist manifestos and the philosophical writings of his peers Antiquity on Display Can Bilsel, 2012-07-19 Antiquity on Display offers an insight into the history of the imaginative reproductions of architecture housed in Berlin's Pergamon Museum and the shifting regimes of the authentic in museum displays from the 19th century to the present

Architecture Series: Bibliography, 1988 Geography and National Identity David Hooson, 1994-10-20 This volume of especially commissioned essays explores the geography of and the role of geography in national and proto national identity Place and national identity are bound together Attachment to the one is almost always inseparable from the sense of the other Yet as this volume shows the articulated self conscious linking of place and identity is by and large a modern phenomenon that took root in nineteenth century Europe The formation of supranational states and the much vaunted globalization of culture led many to believe there would be a progressive dilution of national identities and a growing agglomeration of places and nations into larger state units Precisely the reverse has taken place This book explores the connections between identity and homeland showing how a place may be perceived as archetypal endowed with love and celebrated in music and poetry yet be a pretext for violence and war It examines the evolution of ideas about identity and their manifestations in a wide variety of settings from the former Soviet Union to the island states of the South Pacific
