Best Friend Blues

Alexa and Brittany were best friends. They'd known each other since Brittany moved next door in 2nd grade. They hung out almost every day after school... when they were getting along, that is.

They were very different people. Alexa did great with her school work, read a lot of books, and took ballet classes. Brittany, on the other hand, would rather play soccer, chat with other kids at school, and rarely sat still for long enough to finish reading a chapter of a book.

Often, Alexa and Brittany would play together at the park across the street. They'd play on the equipment, play tag with a group of neighborhood kids, or play soccer. If it was raining outside, they'd go in one of their houses to make crafts, play video games, or do their nails. Some days they could spend hours together without a single problem, but other days they just could not agree on what to do.

"Come on, let's play on the equipment. We've played soccer for the last three days!" Alexa said.

"They just cut the grass. I love playing soccer when the grass is nice and short. I don't want to play on the equipment," Brittany replied.

"We always do what you want to do Brittany, it's my turn to choose." Alexa was getting frustrated.

"Fine, go play on the equipment by yourself, I'm playing soccer," Brittany shouted.
