

Prayer Journal

Our pasta, who art in a colander,
Draining be your noodles.

Thy noodle come,
Thy sauce be yam.

On top some grated Parmesan
Give us this day, our garlic bread.

Forgive us our trespasses,
As we forgive those

Who trample on our lawns.
Lead us not into vegetarianism.

But deliver us from pizza.
For thine is the meatball,

The noodle, and the sauce,
Forever and ever.

A Skeptics Notebook:

Kierkegaard's Journals and Notebooks, Volume 8 Søren Kierkegaard, 2015-08-18 For over a century the Danish thinker Søren Kierkegaard 1813-55 has been at the center of a number of important discussions concerning not only philosophy and theology but also more recently fields such as social thought, psychology, and contemporary aesthetics, especially literary theory. Despite his relatively short life, Kierkegaard was an extraordinarily prolific writer, as attested to by the 26-volume Princeton University Press edition of all of his published writings. But Kierkegaard left behind nearly as much unpublished writing, most of which consists of what are called his journals and notebooks. Kierkegaard has long been recognized as one of history's great journal keepers, but only rather small portions of his journals and notebooks are what we usually understand by the term diaries. By far the greater part of Kierkegaard's journals and notebooks consists of reflections on a myriad of subjects: philosophical, religious, political, personal. Studying his journals and notebooks takes us into his workshop where we can see his entire universe of thought. We can witness the genesis of his published works, to be sure, but we can also see whole galaxies of concepts, new insights, and fragments, large and small, of partially or almost entirely completed but unpublished works. Kierkegaard's Journals and Notebooks enables us to see the thinker in dialogue with his times and with himself. Kierkegaard wrote his journals in a two-column format: one for his initial entries and the second for the extensive marginal comments that he added later. This edition of the journals reproduces this format, includes several photographs of original manuscript pages, and contains extensive scholarly commentary on the various entries and on the history of the manuscripts being reproduced. Volume 8 of this 11-volume series includes five of Kierkegaard's important NB journals, Journals NB21 through NB25, which cover the period from September 1850 to June 1852 and which show Kierkegaard alternately in polemical and reflective postures. The polemics emerge principally in Kierkegaard's opposition to the increasing infiltration of Christianity by worldly concerns, a development that in his view had accelerated significantly in the aftermath of the political and social changes wrought by the Revolution of 1848. Kierkegaard understood the corrupting of Christianity to be in the interest of the powers that be, and he directed his criticism at politicians, the press, and especially the Danish Church itself, particularly church officials who claimed to be reformers. On the reflective side, Kierkegaard delves into a number of authors and religious figures, some of them for the first time, including Montaigne, Pascal, Seneca, Savonarola, Wesley, and F. W. Newman. These journals also contain Kierkegaard's thoughts on the decisions surrounding the publication of the Anti-Climacus writings, The Sickness unto Death, and especially Practice in Christianity. Kierkegaard's reader gets the sense both of a gathering storm by the close of the last journal in this volume: the famous attack on Christendom is less than three years away, and a certain hesitancy. What needs reforming, Kierkegaard insists, is not the doctrine or the Church but existences, i.e., lives.

Kierkegaard's Journals and Notebooks, Volume 3 Søren Kierkegaard, 2010-07-01 Søren Kierkegaard 1813-55 published an extraordinary number of works during his lifetime, but he left behind nearly as much unpublished writing most of which consists of what are called his journals and notebooks Volume 3 of this 11 volume edition of Kierkegaard's Journals and Notebooks includes Kierkegaard's extensive notes on lectures by the Danish theologian H N Clausen and by the German philosopher Schelling as well as a great many other entries on philosophical theological and literary topics In addition the volume includes many personal reflections by Kierkegaard notably those in which he provides an account of his love affair with Regine Olsen his onetime fiancée

Skeptics Notebook - No I Don't Believe black Cat Activity Books,2021-09-14 Ideal gift for any skeptical person who is thoroughly irritated by the constant wave of incoherent and non nonsensical clap trap that some people insist on peddling Ahh breathe in and relax It's only a notebook But there might be an alien somewhere on it

European Notebooks Francois Bondy,2018-02-06 A generation of outstanding European thinkers emerged out of the rubble of World War II It was a group unparalleled in their probing of an age that had produced totalitarianism as a political norm and the Holocaust as its supreme nightmarish achievement Figures ranging from George Lichtheim Ignazio Silone Raymond Aron Andrei Amalrik among many others found a home in Encounter None stood taller or saw further than Francois Bondy of Zurich In a moving tribute to his friend Melvin J Lasky long time editor of Encounter writes Bondy was a breathtaking spectacle I had known him to read and walk to think and talk all at once and still make mental notes for his next article Early or late seated or standing awake or asleep his incomparable spiritedness would always be darting from point to point paying attention and idly wandering at once Taken all in all he still continues to represent for me perhaps a Henry Jamesian New Man Bondy's essays themselves represent a broad sweep of major figures and events in the second half of the twentieth century His spatial outreach went from Budapest to Tokyo and Paris His political essays extended from George Kennan to Benito Mussolini And his prime matter the cultural figures of Europe covered Sartre Kafka Heidegger and Milosz The analysis was uniformly fair minded but unstinting in its insights Taken together the variegated themes he raised in his work as a Zurich journalist a Paris editor and a European homme de lettres sketch guidelines for an entrancing portrait of the intellectual as cosmopolitan

European Notebooks contains most of the articles that Bondy 1915-2003 wrote for Encounter under the stewardship of Stephen Spender Irving Kristol and then for the thirty years that Melvin Lasky served as editor Bondy was that rare unattached intellectual free of every totalitarian temptation and as Lasky notes unflinching in his devotion to the liberties and civilities of a humane social order

European Notebooks offers a window into a civilization that came to maturity during the period in which these essays were written
