A Thousand Coloured Dreams:

A Thousand Coloured Dreams Josephine Abaijah, Eric Wright, 2001 A THOUSAND COLOURED DREAMS is a love story set against a background of political intrigue in a decaying colonial regime and the impending spread of Asia across the Pacific It is the story of Josephine Abaijah the first woman elected to the parliament of her country a tale of courage love and beauty that endured beyond the limits of reason or the dreams of a simple girl

A Thousand Coloured Dreams Josephine Abaijah, Dr. Eric Wright, 1991 A Thousand Coloured Dreams, The Rosicrucian Dream-Book: Containing Solutions of Over Three Thousand Different Dreams. Collected and Translated from the Old English, German, Norwegian, Etc. [By P. B. Randolph.] ROSICRUCIAN DREAM-BOOK., 1871 Political Life Writing in the Pacific Jack Corbett, Brij V. Lal, 2015-07-29 This book aims to reflect on the experiential side of writing political lives in the Pacific region The collection touches on aspects of the life writing art that are particularly pertinent to political figures public perception and ideology identifying important political successes and policy initiatives grappling with issues like corruption and age old political science questions about leadership and dirty hands These are general themes but they take on a particular significance in the Pacific context and so the contributions explore these themes in relation to patterns of colonisation and the memory of independence issues elliptically captured by terms like culture and tradition the nature of self presented in Pacific life writing and the tendency for many of these texts to be written by outsiders or at least the increasingly contested nature of what that term means

World of a Thousand Colors Robert A. Silverberg, 1983-08 A Dream of a Throne Charles Fleming Embree, 1900 Being Political Jack Corbett, 2015-01-31 Politicians everywhere tend to attract cynicism and inspire disillusionment They are supposed to epitomize the promise of democratic government and yet invariably find themselves cast as the enemy of every virtue that system seeks to uphold In the Pacific politician has become a byword for corruption graft and misconduct This was not always the case the independence generation is still remembered as strong leaders but today's leaders are commonly associated with malaise and despair Once heroes of self determination politicians are now the targets of donor attempts to institute good governance while Fiji's 2006 coup was partly justified on the grounds that they needed cleaning up But who are these much maligned figures How did they come to arrive in politics What is it like to be a politician Why do they enter stay and leave Drawing on more than 110 interviews and other published sources including autobiographies and biographies Being Political provides a collective portrait of the region's political elite This is an insider account of political life in the Pacific as seen through the eyes of those who have done the job We learn that politics is a messy unpredictable and at times dirty business that nonetheless inspires service and sacrifice We come to understand how being a politician has changed since independence and consider what this means for how we think about issues of corruption and misconduct We find that politics is deeply embedded in the lives of individuals families and communities an account that belies the common characterization of democracy in the Pacific as a facade or foreign flower Ultimately this is a sympathetic counter narrative to the populist critique We come to know politicians as people with hopes and fears pains and pleasures vices and virtues A reminder that politicians are human neither saints nor sinners is timely given the wave of cynicism and disaffection As such this book is a must read for all those who believe in the promise of representative government
