Beginning Writers In The Zone Of Proximal Development:

Beginning Writers in the Zone of Proximal Development Elizabeth Petrick-Steward,2012-10-12 How do young children bridge the gap between writing a story with pictures and writing with words How children learn to use written words to tell a story is a topic important to both cognitive development and early literacy instruction Using the theoretical framework developed by Vygotsky the behavior of a group of prekindergarten children as they author two consecutive pieces of writing is analyzed The children tell their stories at first with spoken words and pictures As they discuss their work in progress in public conferences they discover how to build on and combine existing skills to produce a new skill telling stories with written words Current descriptive and theoretical perspectives on beginning writing are presented in this volume with a particular focus on Vygotsky s concept of the zone of proximal development a period of sensitivity in which learning advances The proposed mechanism of change is verbal mediation talk among peers and teachers as they discuss work in progress which moves the children through the zone of proximal development An open whole language approach to literacy instruction makes the classroom in this book an ideal arena in which to observe verbal mediation in operation Children are free to question criticize and argue and in the process they collectively advance their developing ability to use written language The work is unique in that the rich and comprehensive data record is reproduced in its entirety More than 400 illustrations of the children s products two books apiece pictured before and after the children s revisions are included along with transcripts of the conferences about each of the pages permitting direct observation of the effects of verbal mediation This dynamic study documents change during a period of time when specific learning is occurring and provides strong support for the value and power of Vygotsky s theoretical framework Learning for Life in the 21st Century Gordon Wells,Guy Claxton,2008-04-15 United by the belief that the most significant factor in shaping the minds of young people is the cultural setting in which learning takes place the twenty eminent contributors to this volume present new thinking on education across the boundaries of school home work and community Handbook of Writing Research, Second Edition Charles A. MacArthur,Steve Graham,Jill Fitzgerald,2015-10-13 This authoritative volume synthesizes current knowledge on writing development in children and adolescents and the processes underlying successful learning and teaching The most comprehensive work of its kind the volume encompasses both cognitive and sociocultural perspectives Leading investigators present salient theoretical models describe cutting edge research methodologies and analytic tools summarize available data on the effectiveness of major instructional approaches and identify key directions for future research Emphasizing the importance Writing Anchors Jan Wells,Janine Reid,2004 This comprehensive handbook shows teachers how to build a foundation for writing with effective lessons that are the key to powerful writing workshops Writing Anchors demonstrates how to create a supportive classroom model writing experiences and create enthusiasm for writing among students The practical lessons explore the major elements of writing with explicit strategies for teaching the major forms of writing

Informational writing detailed descriptions of ways to take and organize notes use text features and create reports that have voice Poetry and personal writing language choice imagery using the senses and finding the personal pulse of the writer Narrative extends writing skills with lessons on story sequence problem solving and character development The lessons form metacognitive anchors that build an understanding of the elements of powerful writing Each lesson comes with an anchor cue card that prompts students to apply their growing understandings independently in writing workshops and in assessing their own writing In addition the book provides more than thirty effective tools that are ready to copy and use in the classroom writing checklists rubrics for assessment graphic organizers note taking grids semantic maps story maps tips for proofing and student examples collected from grade 2-7 classrooms

CCCC Bibliography of Composition and Rhetoric 1994 Gail E. Hawisher, Cynthia L. Selfe, 1996-09 This volume lists and annotates more than two thousand articles books dissertations and papers that with few exceptions appeared in 1994 It includes an index of authors and editors a subject index and entries cross referenced according to subject matter The 1994 Bibliography looks dramatically different from the Bibliography Erika Lindemann founded more than ten years ago Many more titles now relate to fields not represented in early editions Although composition and rhetoric has always borrowed methods of investigation from other disciplines areas such as critical theory science studies feminist theory technology studies and postmodern theory were much less a part of the discipline a decade ago These fields are well represented this year This volume like the 1993 Bibliography also differs from early editions in that it contains a section on electronic discussion groups or listservs including information on how readers may join the various groups Yet the mission and goals of the Bibliography remain the same to ensure that it is sufficiently comprehensive that it can continue to function as a major bibliographical resource available to scholars and teachers in rhetoric composition communication and literary education As usual the CCCC Bibliography of Composition and Rhetoric draws on a large group of experts in the field Annotations which accompany every entry in this volume describe a publication's contents and are intended to help users determine the entry's usefulness Annotations are brief and are meant to be descriptive not evaluative they explain what an entry is about but leave readers free to judge for themselves the work's merits The CCCC Bibliography of Composition and Rhetoric remains a critical bibliographical resource one that reflects and respects the variety of scholarship in composition studies and that exerts a constructive productive influence on the composition and rhetoric community
