Beginning Bab Volume Two:

Suicide in the Middle Ages: Volume 2: The Curse on Self-Murder Alexander Murray, 1998 A group of men dig a tunnel under the threshold of a house Then they go and fetch a heavy sagging object from inside the house pull it out through the tunnel and put it on a cow hide to be dragged off and thrown into the offal pit Why should the corpse of a suicide DS for that is what it is DS have earned this unusual treatment In The Curse on Self Murder the second volume of his three part Suicide in the Middle Ages Alexander Murray explores the origin of the condemnation of suicide in a quest which leads along the most unexpected byways of medieval theology law mythology and folklore DS and indeed in some instances beyond them At an epoch when there might be plenty of ostensible reasons for not wanting to live the ways used to block the suicidal escape route give a unique perspective on medieval religion

The Christian Tradition Jaroslav Pelikan, 2011-05-23 The line that separated Eastern Christendom from Western on the medieval map is similar to the iron curtain of recent times Linguistic barriers political divisions and liturgical differences combined to isolate the two cultures from each other Except for such episodes as the schism between East and West or the Crusades the development of non Western Christendom has been largely ignored by church historians In The Spirit of Eastern Christendom Jaroslav Pelikan explains the divisions between Eastern and Western Christendom and identifies and describes the development of the distinctive forms taken by Christian doctrine in its Greek Syriac and early Slavic expression It is a pleasure to salute this masterpiece of exposition The book flows like a great river slipping easily past landscapes of the utmost diversity the great Christological controversies of the seventh century the debate on icons in the eighth and ninth attitudes to Jews to Muslims to the dualistic heresies of the high Middle Ages to the post Reformation churches of Western Europe His book succeeds in being a study of the Eastern Christian religion as a whole Peter Brown and Sabine MacCormack New York Review of Books The second volume of Professor Pelikan's monumental work on The Christian Tradition is the most comprehensive historical treatment of Eastern Christian thought from 600 to 1700 written in recent years Pelikan's reinterpretation is a major scholarly and ecumenical event John Meyendorff Displays the same mastery of ancient and modern theological literature the same penetrating analytical clarity and balanced presentation of conflicting contentions that made its predecessor such an intellectual treat Virginia Quarterly Review Supplement to the Catalogue of the Arabic Manuscripts in the British Museum British Museum.
