Behar Proverbs John Christian,1986      Behar Proverbs John Christian,2013-09-05 First published in 2000 This title is Volume XII in the XIV Volume set titled India Language and Literature part of Truber s Oriental Series This collection presents the author s passion for language As described in the introduction Christian argues that Language would be tolerable without epigrammatic sayings but if we wish to relish language to point a moral or adorn a tale we must flavour our speech with proverbs This title holds six classes dividing the proverbs into themes human failings worldly wisdom peculiarities social and moral subjects agriculture and animals      Behar Proverbs John Christian,2014-02 An excerpt from the beginning of the INTRODUCTION 1 Proverbs in General It is no less a true than a terse Arabic saying That a Proverb is to speech what salt is to food It aptly describes the office of proverbs and puts in a practical though homely form the part played by them in a language It is quite possible to derive nourishment and sustenance from food without sa 2 Proverbs of a people are the index of their lives Every nation has its peculiar form of expressing its ideas its special shades of thought The idea may be the same but different people will employ different figures of speech and modes of expression to convey it These may seem quaint perhaps crude and even grotesque to others but they are the appropriate vehicles of thought of the people and suited to their circumstances in life Proverbs however quaintly expressed contain the essence of some moral truth or practical lesson they are drawn from real life and are generally the fruit of philosophy grafted on the stem of experience Carlyle says That a man s religion is the chief fact with regard to him a man s or a nation of men s If the proverbs of a people are not the chief facts with regard to them they are at any rate a safe index of their lives their mode of living their current thoughts their intellectual and social status their surroundings and in fact everything else that goes to make up social life

Behar proverbs John Christian,1986      Behar Proverbs John Christian,2017-12-25 Excerpt from Behar Proverbs Classified and Arranged To know a people thoroughly we must accompany them in their homes find them in their daily occupations and amusements see them as they are not with behaviours and manners assumed for the occasion but in their natural and every day habit just as they appear to their own friends and families In this unsophisticated state we see them in the natural utterances that form the proverbs and sayings Of the people In them they give vent to their genuine thoughts freely and without constraint We see them as they are seen in their own circles in their domestic relations when human nature unbends itself in their jovial moods and in the various phases of social life It is impossible to understand a people when they are acting a part when they are playing an artificial roze as it were and this is what most natives do when they appear in the presence of a European It is therefore no exaggeration to say that an illiterate native seldom appears to a European in his true light About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
