Designing High-Density Cities Edward Ng, 2009-12-16 Compact living is sustainable living High density cities can support closer amenities encourage reduced trip lengths and the use of public transport and therefore reduce transport energy costs and carbon emissions High density planning also helps to control the spread of urban suburbs into open lands improves efficiency in urban infrastructure and services and results in environmental improvements that support higher quality of life in cities Encouraging even requiring higher density urban development is a major policy and a central principle of growth management programmes used by planners around the world

However such density creates design challenges and problems A collection of experts in each of the related architectural and planning areas examines these environmental and social issues and argues that high density cities are a sustainable solution It will be essential reading for anyone with an interest in sustainable urban development

Evaluation of Urban Ecological Security and Measurement of Urban Ecological Resilience Xueru Zhang,Wei Song,Hualin Xie,Jinmei Lu,2024-05-29 Since the middle of the last century rapid population growth and urbanization have led to the encroachment of a large number of natural spaces resulting in a series of ecological security issues such as environmental pollution resource depletion and habitat destruction which have severely challenged global sustainable development Urban ecological security is an important barrier to urban residents production and life the foundation and core of national or regional ecological security and it is of great significance to promote green development and harmonious coexistence between humans and nature With global warming frequent natural disasters and other multifactorial threats the issue of ecological security in cities as centers of the settlement have become a focus of international attention However cities are complex systems with social economic and natural conditions coupled with each other Under the overlapping of many factors the basic problems such as the mechanism of urban development on ecological security have not been fully explained and there is also a lack of quantitative assessment methods corresponding to urban ecological conditions let alone simulation and prediction
