Beltran In Exile:

Beltran in Exile William Watson, 1979-01-01     The New Beacon ,1981     British Book News ,1979-07     The Singing Detainee and the Librarian with One Book Michael Beltran, 2023     The Singing Detainee and the Librarian with One Book Michael Beltran, 2025-05-15

In late 2019 journalist Michael Beltran found himself in the city of Utrecht the Netherlands deep in conversation with Filipino revolutionary leaders Jose Maria Sison and Julie de Lima. What was planned to be a feature article ended up as a collection of observations on what it means to live in exile. Sison and de Lima are maligned by governments and revered by activists worldwide all while spending most of their time tucked away in a small Dutch neighborhood. What Beltran realized was that it was impossible to speak of their exile without understanding the history and community surrounding it. The Singing Detainee and the Librarian with One Book shares lesser known tales about two of the most well known revolutionary exiles and their comrades. It speaks of a community and history behind the ordeal weaving it into the Filipino diaspora. Sison passed away in December 2022 making this book a record of one of the last and arguably lengthiest interviews he ever gave. The essays track the couple's prolonged stay as refugees, how the Philippine liberation movement found a home in Europe and how migrants and activists alike gravitated toward each other while adrift from their homeland. Exile, Beltran says, is imprisonment by displacement when people are condemned to leave their lands dressed in invisible chains. Michael Beltran is an activist and journalist whose articles have appeared in many publications in the Asia Pacific including Al Jazeera and South China Morning Post. Covering human rights, the shrinking democratic space in the Philippines and forced migration, eviction and displacement. He also volunteers for Pinoy Weekly.

Isabella of Spain
William Thomas Walsh, 1930. Called by her people Isabella la Católica, she was by any standard one of the greatest women of all history. A saint in her own right, she married Ferdinand of Aragon and they forged modern Spain, cast out the Moslems, discovered the New World by backing Columbus and established a powerful central government in Spain. This story is so thrilling it reads like a novel. Makes history really come alive. Highly readable and truly great in every respect.

In 1896 Wenceslao Gálvez y Delmonte fled the violence of Cuba's war for independence and settled in Tampa. He soon made his new home the focus of a work of costumbrismo, the Spanish language genre built on closely observing the everyday manners and customs of a place. Translated here into English, Gálvez's narrative mixes evocative descriptions with charming commentary to bring to life the early Cuban exile communities in Ybor City and West Tampa. The writer's sharp eye finds the local characters, the barber shops and electric streetcars, the city landmarks and new Cuban enclaves. One day Gálvez offers his thoughts on the pro-independence activities of community leaders like Martín Herrera and Fernando Figuerdo. On another, our exiled bourgeois intellectual author wryly recounts his new life as a door-to-door salesman and lector reading aloud to workers in a cigar
