Arranged alphabetically each begins with ready reference information including dates and places of birth and death and a short statement on the individual's overall contribution to politics and the world. The remainder of the articles cover facts about the subject's upbringing and her life up to the point at which her major work began, a chronological account of that period during which the most significant achievements were made, an evaluation of her contributions to or impact on history that places her life and achievements in context, and an annotated bibliography. Appendices offer alternative ways to access the subjects: i.e. the time line and geographical listings. The volumes include many black and white photographs and drawings. This innovative collection builds on current multimodal research to showcase image-centric practices in contemporary media, unpacking the increasing extent to which the visual plays a principal role in modern-day communication. The volume begins by providing a concise overview of the history and development of multimodal research with respect to image-centricity, with successive chapters looking at how image-centricity emerges over time, unfolds in relation to language and other features in global design strategies. Bringing together contributions from both established and emerging researchers in multimodality and social semiotics, the book presents case studies on a variety of image-centric genres and domains, including magazines, advertising, discourse, multimedia, storytelling, and social media platforms. The aims of the book are to interrogate the new multimodal genres, relations, forms of analysis, and methods of production that emerge from a greater reliance on visual components. Refining and broadening current understandings of image-centricity in today's media sphere, this collection will be of particular interest to scholars and students in multimodality, social semiotics, applied linguistics, language and media, and discourse analysis. The World Roberto Remo Bissio, 1995.
