Beowulf And Judith:

Beowulf and Judith Richard M. Trask,1997-08-28 The two great epic theme poems Beowulf and Judith paired in the Beowulf Manuscript preserved in the British Museum are here presented in a translation with a unique fidelity that restores the true Anglo Saxon rhythmical line of five subtypes of four beat stress adhering scrupulously to the alliterative strictures of Anglo Saxon verse and exploiting its epithetical style This is a ground breaking piece of work in that it recreates the indispensable stylistic and esthetic effects of the original while attaining a natural modern idiom something that had been thought impossible to achieve The key insight in this book is the stated and demonstrated philosophy that alliteration and imagistic compound metaphors are a living breathing part of our linguistic heritage and practice in Modern English today but rendering the poems requires an intricate sensibility to Old English style in order to recreate the force that they had The Old English text is included interlinearly with the translation to facilitate comparison and acquaintance with the original poems Introductory essays discuss 1 the living tradition of alliteration and epithetical phrasing common to Anglo Saxon poetry and Modern English idiom and 2 the literary tradition and merit of the two poems The book as a whole is a scholarly accomplishment which revivifies these two great works for the entire modern public Beowulf and Judith Elliott Van Kirk Dobbie,2023-08-10 Beowulf and Judith 1953 contains an extensive introduction to the texts of Beowulf and Judith the full texts of the poems themselves and comprehensive notes to the texts Beowulf and Judith Elliott Van Kirk Dobbie,2023 Beowulf and Judith 1953 contains an extensive introduction to the texts of Beowulf and Judith the full texts of the poems themselves and comprehensive notes to the texts Beowulf and Judith [1953]. CROSS, PH D., 1927 Texts and Identities in the Early Middle Ages Richard Corradini, 2006 For seven years a collaboration between the Institute for Medieval Studies of the Austrian Academy of Sciences and the Universities of Utrecht Cambridge Leeds and Paris I Sorbonne provided the opportunity for young researchers to discuss and coordinate their work The title of the project and of this volume Texts and identities provides the framework for case studies in different fields of early medieval history They include apparently disparate topics such as historiography and hagiography monastic spaces and memories lay and ecclesiastic legislation as well as liturgy and penance Rather than defining a common field of research the meetings from which these papers have emerged derived their coherence from their common methodological framework This approach combines two elements on the one hand emphasis has been laid on the careful analysis of the transmission of texts and of the manuscript evidence on the other research has focused on the problem of identity or rather of processes of identification including the perception of differences between specific social political and religious communities In the combination of these two approaches the extant texts from the early medieval period are not only seen as mere reflections of ethnic social and cultural identities but also as media that gave meaning to social practices and were often intended to inspire guide change or prevent action directly or indirectly The written texts that have been transmitted to us can be seen as part of a cultural effort to shape the present by means of restructuring the past The often discordant voices of medieval authors allow modern historians to grasp something of the multiplicity of the early medieval world and of the disagreements conflicts idiosyncrasies and individual perceptions among the people who lived in that period Many contributions in this volume propose specific methods for studying changing identities They analyse differences between similar texts over time or specifically changes in texts in the course of their transmission The papers collected in this volume illustrate that texts were integral parts of a world in transformation Three Old English Prose Texts in Ms. Cotton Vitellius A XV Stanley Rypins, 1924
