Spicer, 2020-09-29 The storm has become a universal trope in the literature of crisis revelation and transformation It can function as a trope of place of apocalypse and epiphany of cultural mythos and story and of people and spirituality This book explores the connections between people place and environment through the image of cyclones within fiction and poetry from the Australian state of Queensland the northern coast of which is characterized by these devastating storms Analyzing a range of works including Alexis Wright's Carpentaria Patrick White's The Eye of the Storm and Vance Palmer's Cyclone it explains the cyclone in the Queensland literary imagination as an example of a cultural response to weather in a unique regional place It also situates the cyclones that appear in Queensland literature within the broader global context of literary cyclones      The Cambridge History of Australian Literature Peter Pierce, 2009-09-17 Draws on scholarship from leading figures in the field and spans Australian literary history from colonial origins indigenous and migrant literatures as well as representations of Asia and the Pacific and the role of literary culture in modern Australian society      Postmodern Approaches to the Short Story Farhat Iftekharrudin, Joseph Boyden, Joseph Longo, Mary Rohrberger, 2003-03-30 Postmodernism as a mode of the contemporary short story has been clearly established and recognized by short story theorists But postmodern theory as pervasive as it has become among academics in the last half century has scarcely been applied to the short story genre in particular Many contemporary scholars nonetheless are currently making use of certain postmodern thematic approaches to help them determine meanings of particular short stories T Short story theory began with Edgar Allan Poe's review of Twice Told Tales a collection of stories by his contemporary Nathaniel Hawthorne But theoretical discussions of the short story languished until modernism and the new criticism provided impetus for further development Surprisingly though the next large critical movement postmodernism failed to address the short story as a genre But while there is little postmodern theory concerning the short story contemporary scholars have used certain postmodern critical approaches to help determine meaning This book demonstrates the effect of postmodern theory on the study of the short story genre The expert contributors to this volume examine such topics as genre and form the role of the reader cultural and ethnic diversity and feminist perspectives on the short story In doing so they apply postmodern theoretical approaches to international short stories be they in the traditional mode the modern mode or the postmodern mode The volume looks at fiction by Edith Wharton Henry James Katherine Mansfield and other authors and at Iranian short fiction the postcolonial short story the fantastic in short fiction and other subjects      North of Nowhere, South of Loss Janette Turner Hospital, 2003 No Marketing Blurb      Who's Who in Contemporary Women's Writing Jane Eldridge Miller, 2019-07-23 Unique in its breadth of coverage Who's Who in Contemporary Women's Writing is a comprehensive authoritative and enjoyable guide to women's fiction prose poetry and drama from around the world in the second half of the twentieth century Over the course of
