M. Forster,2016-01-13 THE STORY OF A PANIC I Eustace s career if career it can be called certainly dates from that afternoon in the chestnut woods above Ravello I confess at once that I am a plain simple man with no pretensions to literary style Still I do flatter myself that I can tell a story without exaggerating and I have therefore decided to give an unbiased account of the extraordinary events of eight years ago Ravello is a delightful place with a delightful little hotel in which we met some charming people There were the two Miss Robinsons who had been there for six weeks with Eustace their nephew then a boy of about fourteen Mr Sandbach had also been there some time He had held a curacy in the north of England which he had been compelled to resign on account of ill health and while he was recruiting at Ravello he had taken in hand Eustace s education which was then sadly deficient and was endeavouring to fit him for one of our great public schools Then there was Mr Leyland a would be artist and finally there was the nice landlady Signora Scafetti and the nice English speaking waiter Emmanuele though at the time of which I am speaking Emmanuele was away visiting a sick father To this little circle I my wife and my two daughters made I venture to think a not unwelcome addition But though I liked most of the company well enough there were two of them to whom I did not take at all They were the artist Leyland and the Miss Robinsons nephew Eustace Leyland was simply conceited and odious and as those qualities will be amply illustrated in my narrative I need not enlarge upon them here But Eustace was something besides he was indescribably repellent
