Erika Rackley, Rosemary Auchmuty

Colonel Barkers Monstrous Regiment:

Colonel Barker's Monstrous Regiment Rose Collis, 2002 In an England devastated by the terrible losses of World War I Colonel Victor Barker was a rare man indeed Dashing well respected with impeccable manners he was a model gentleman His wife was proud of his good breeding and fine looks and his young son worshipped him as a war hero But beneath the army uniform Barker hid an astounding secret In 1929 following a sensational trial the good colonel was sentenced to nine months imprisonment For Colonel Barker was in fact a woman Her real name was Valerie Lilius Arkell Smith the most infamous man woman of them all Among Rose Collis books are A Trouser Wearing Character K D Lang and The Mammoth Book of Lesbian Erotica The Oxford Handbook of Music and Queerness Fred Everett Maus, Sheila Whiteley, Tavia Nyong'o, Tavia Amolo Ochieng' Nyongó, Zoe C. Sherinian, 2022 Explores ways that music and queerness interact to create unique meanings Includes perspectives on music making from many times and places Innovative queer research and interpretation take exciting new directions Book jacket

Second World War in Contemporary British Fiction Victoria Stewart, 2011-07-01 Focussing on the upsurge of interest in the Second World War in contemporary British novels this monograph considers established writers including Muriel Spark Sarah Waters and Kazuo Ishiguro as well as newer voices such as Liz Jensen and Peter Ho Da Sisters in Arms Julie Wheelwright, 2020-02-20 SHORTLISTED FOR THE BRITISH ARMY BOOK OF THE YEAR 2021 A long overdue assertion on the role of women on the battlefield This book is going straight on my daughter s bookshelf Dan Snow historian TV presenter and broadcaster Sisters in Arms shows the many faces of women in combat from the myths of the ancient world to the headline grabbing conflicts of today with a scrupulous attention to their different contexts but a common compassion for their struggles and achievements Boyd Tonkin journalist and author Wheelwright not only uncovers neglected female warriors but she brings their temperaments talents fancies and foibles to life Professor Joanna Bourke Birkbeck University of London Sisters in Arms charts the evolution of women in combat from the Scythian warriors who inspired the Amazonian myth to the passing soldiers and sailors of the eighteenth century and on to the re emergence of women as official members of the armed forces in the twentieth century Author Julie Wheelwright traces our fascination with these forgotten heroines using their own words including official documents diaries letters and memoirs to bring their experiences vividly to life She examines their contemporary legacy and the current role of women in the armed forces while calling into question the enduring relationship between masculinity and combat

Women's Legal Landmarks Erika Rackley, Rosemary Auchmuty, 2018-12-27 Women's Legal Landmarks commemorates the centenary of women's admission in 1919 to the legal profession in the UK and Ireland by identifying key legal landmarks in women's legal history Over 80 authors write about landmarks that represent a significant achievement or turning point in women's engagement with law and law reform The landmarks cover a wide range of topics including matrimonial property the right to vote prostitution surrogacy and assisted reproduction rape domestic violence FGM equal pay abortion image based sexual abuse and the ordination of women bishops as well as the life stories of women who were the first to undertake key legal roles and positions Together the landmarks offer a scholarly intervention in the recovery of women s lost history and in the development of methodology of feminist legal history as well as a demonstration of women s agency and activism in the achievement of law reform and justice

Essays in Irish Literary Criticism Deirdre Quinn, Sharon Tighe-Mooney, 2008 Essays in Irish Literary Criticism Themes of Gender Sexuality and Corporeality

Sable, 2005 Historical Perspectives on Social Identities Alyson Brown, 2006 This collection of work on the theme of identities was the result of a conference held in the spring of 2005 at Edge Hill under the auspices of The Centre for Liverpool and Merseyside Studies Whilst a significant proportion of the research focused on Liverpool and the North West the theme of identities was sufficiently broad to entice scholars from diverse and varied fields This collection therefore reflects the range of work presented and discussed at the conference and the multi layered and multi faceted nature of identity Contributors to this edited collection examined the concept of identity in Britain through a range of historical perspectives concerning themselves primarily with the later modern period They reflect the extent to which nineteenth and twentieth century British social cultural and political change has given rise to pluralist fragmented and fractured identities and highlight the extent to which class gender religious and institutional frameworks have shifted continually This publication will therefore be of interest to those working in diverse fields but who share an interest in the importance of identity as a decisive cultural social economic and political determinant Questions of identity have centred a good deal of debate in the social sciences especially since the reception of Foucault s work in the English speaking world in the last couple of decades This has often taken a theoretical form Attempts to link theory with analytical practice have been strongest in the field that might be characterised as the politics of identity At any rate this has provided an important instance of theoretical and practical conflict Here the focus of the debate has been around questions of gender nation language economy security and race It has tried to clarify crucial divisions in the analysis of identity as between explanatory and constitutive models and between positivist and post positivist procedures For the most part these intense and extensive concerns have passed by largely unnoticed among historians practising in Britain in the well found but conventional idioms of political and social history What this conference volume seeks to do is to help redress the deficit to domesticating some of the theoretical and polemical exchanges around identity into a world of practical yet

conceptually aware historical work This is a difficult but surely worthwhile task to broach various imaginaries of identity issues of identitarian politics and questions of identity formation on a series of relatively familiar historical contexts Of course no selection of subjects for practical research in this way can be exhaustive The group of essays offered here is sufficiently wide and occasionally gratifyingly unexpected at least to begin the job to stimulate others and most importantly to interject theoretical concern into historical fields sometimes lacking it Ten essays are included together with the editor s introduction The pieces are bound together by a common strategy not a shared empirical territory They range from studies of gendered identity formation to regional identities formed around seaside resorts to empirical questions of class and capitalism and their identitarian politics to historical analysis of mourning and on to language nationality deafness motherhood and their inflection in identity in past time This well edited combination of shared conceptual purpose and variety of empirical form seems to me to work well The book will be widely used in a variety of historical fields not least in those which have been the most resistant to recent theoretical innovations in the social sciences Keith Nield Editor SOCIAL HISTORY This is a fascinating and wide ranging collection of essays linked by the over riding theme of identity While primarily historical in their focus the essays will be of interest to more than just historians They raise a variety of interesting conceptual and theoretical issues from for instance the significance of the staymaker in the formation of eighteenth century female identity to the relationship between regional identity and late nineteenth and early twentieth century Lancashire seaside resorts Sam Davies Professor of History School of Social Science Liverpool John Moores University
