Hochstetter's marriage is in crisis. Her formerly attentive industrialist husband Gilbert has become remote, pre-occupied with business and something else that she can't quite put a finger on. She's hoping a trip to London in Lusitania's lavish first-class accommodations will help them reconnect, but she can't ignore the spark she feels for her old friend Robert Langford, who turns out to be on the same voyage. Feeling restless and longing for a different existence, Caroline is determined to stop being a bystander and take charge of her own life. Tessa Fairweather is traveling second class on the Lusitania, returning home to Devon. Or at least that's her story. Tessa has never left the United States, and her English accent is a hasty fake. She's really Tennessee Schaff, the daughter of a roving con man, and she can steal and forge just about anything. But she's had enough. Her partner has promised that if they can pull off this one last heist aboard the Lusitania, they'll finally leave the game behind. Tess desperately wants to believe that, but Tess has the uneasy feeling there's something about this job that isn't as it seems. As the Lusitania steams toward its fate, three women work against time to unravel a plot that will change the course of their own lives and history itself.
