Encyclopedia of Cancer Manfred Schwab,2011-10-14 The merging of different basic and clinical science disciplines towards the common goal of fighting against cancer has long ago called for the establishment of a comprehensive reference source both as a tool to close the language gap between clinical and basic science investigators and as a platform of information for students and informed laymen alike The Encyclopedia of Cancer provides rapid access to focused information on all topics of cancer research for clinicians research scientists and advanced students Given the overwhelming success of the Second Edition which appeared in 2009 and fast recent development in the different fields of cancer research it has been decided to publish a third fully revised and expanded edition following the principal concept of the first edition that has proven so successful Recent developments are seeing a dynamic progress in basic and clinical cancer science with translational research increasingly becoming a new paradigm in cancer research In particular new approaches to both

Personalized Cancer Medicine and Targeted Therapies have made promising progress While the Second Edition featured scholarly contributions from approximately 1 000 scientists clinicians in four Volumes the Third Edition includes 1 300 contributors in 7 Volumes with an A Z format of approx 7000 entries It provides definitions of common acronyms and short definitions of related terms and processes in the form of keyword entries In addition there are detailed essays which provide comprehensive information on syndromes genes and molecules and processes and methods Each essay is well structured with extensive cross referencing between all entries In the Third Edition topical Essays present a comprehensive picture of major cancers such as Breast Cancer Colorectal Cancer Prostate Cancer Ovarian Cancer Renal Cancer Lung Cancer and Hematological Malignancies Leukemias and Lymphomas For each of these cancers different authoritative Essays are included that cover topics ranging from Pathology to Clinical Oncology and Targeted Therapies This new feature should meet the expectance that a wide community has towards a major cancer reference works The Encyclopedia of Cancer will be accessible both in print and online and this information source should be of value to both the clinical and basic scientific community as well as to the public

Benzene Toxicity Sidney Laskin, Bernard D. Goldstein, 1977 Environmental Health Perspectives, 1989 Suspected carcinogens National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health, 1976 Suspected carcinogens National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health (U.S.), 1976 IARC Monographs on the Evaluation of Carcinogenic Risks to Humans IARC Working Group on the Evaluation of Carcinogenic Risks to Humans, 1987 IARC Monographs on the Evaluation of Carcinogenic Risks to Humans, 1988 IARC Monographs on the Evaluation of the Carcinogenic Risk of Chemicals to Humans, 1987 Toxicological Profile for Phenol, 1998 Human Carcinogen Exposure R. C. Garner, 1991 A Review of Human Carcinogens. F. Chemical Agents and Related Occupations International Agency for Research on Cancer, 2012-09-24 Volume 100 compiles information on tumor sites and mechanisms of carcinogenesis About half of the agents classified in Group 1 were last reviewed more than 20 years ago before mechanistic studies became prominent in evaluations of carcinogenicity In addition more recent epidemiological studies and animal cancer bioassays have demonstrated that many cancer hazards reported in earlier studies were later observed in other organs or through different exposure scenarios Much can be learned by updating the assessments of agents that are known to cause cancer in humans Accordingly IARC has selected A Review of Human Carcinogens to be the topic for Volume 100 It is hoped that this volume by compiling the knowledge accumulated through several decades of cancer research will stimulate cancer prevention activities worldwide and will be a valued resource for future research to identify other agents suspected of causing cancer in humans Volume 100 was developed by six separate Working Groups Pharmaceuticals Biological agents Metals particles and fibres Radiation Personal habits and household exposures Chemical agents and related occupations Because the scope of Volume 100 is so broad its Monographs are focused on key information Each Monograph presents a description of a carcinogenic agent and how people are exposed critical overviews of the epidemiological studies and animal cancer bioassays and a concise review of the agent's toxicokinetics plausible mechanisms of carcinogenesis and potentially susceptible populations and life stages Details of the design and results of individual epidemiological studies and animal cancer bioassays are summarized in tables Short tables that highlight key results are printed in Volume 100 and more extensive tables that include all studies appear on the Monographs programme website <http://monographs.iarc.fr> For a few well established associations for example tobacco smoke and human lung cancer it was impractical to include all studies even in the website tables In those instances the rationale for inclusion or exclusion of sets of studies is given
