

Scoops

Besides the standard scoops used in stores and at home for scooping dry goods (flour, sugar, etc.) I have included ice cream scoops and coffee scoops, the latter still being produced in quantities. Coffee scoops for coffee measures usually have advertising printed or embossed on them or simply say something like "one full scoop equals one measure of coffee." Any type of scoop with increments on it will be listed under "Measures."
