Jumping the Color Line Susie Trenka, 2021-02-02 From the first synchronized sound films of the late 1920s through the end of World War II African American music and dance styles were ubiquitous in films Black performers however were marginalized mostly limited to appearing in specialty acts and various types of short films whereas stardom was reserved for Whites Jumping the Color Line discusses vernacular jazz dance in film as a focal point of American race relations Looking at intersections of race gender and class the book examines how the racialized and gendered body in film performs challenges and negotiates identities and stereotypes Arguing for the transformative and subversive potential of jazz dance performance onscreen the six chapters address a variety of films and performers including many that have received little attention to date Topics include Hollywood s first Black female star Nina Mae McKinney male tap dance class acts in Black cast short films of the early 1930s the film career of Black tap soloist Jeni LeGon the role of dance in the Soundies jukebox shorts of the 1940s cinematic images of the Lindy hop and a series of teen films from the early 1940s that appealed primarily to young White fans of swing culture With a majority of examples taken from marginal film forms such as shorts and B movies the book highlights their role in disseminating alternative images of racial and gender identities as embodied by dancers images that were at least partly at odds with those typically found in major Hollywood productions College Songs, 1906

Emerging Research and Practices on First-Year Students Ryan D. Padgett, 2014-08-29 What factors contribute to students lasting success Much research has explored the impact of the first year of college on student retention and success With the new performance based funding initiatives institutional administrators are taking a laser focused approach to aligning retention and success strategies to first year student transition points This volume enlightens the discussion and highlights new directions for assessment and research practices within the scope of the first year experience Administrators faculty and data scientists provide a conceptual and analytical approach to investigating the first year experience for entry level and seasoned practitioners alike The emerging research throughout this volume suggests that while many first year programs and services have significant benefits across a number of success outcomes these benefits may not be universal for all students This volume Examines sophisticated empirical models Provides critical assessment practices and implications Examines the four year college and the two year institution which is just as critical This is the 161st volume of this Jossey Bass quarterly report series Timely and comprehensive New Directions for Institutional Research provides planners and administrators in all types of academic institutions with guidelines in such areas as resource coordination information analysis program evaluation and institutional management College Songs and Glees Thomas Griffin Shepard, 1906

Our Day Joseph Cook, Hazlitt Alva Cuppy, 1889 Bob Hope William Robert Faith, William Faith, 2009-04-24 Reporter What s it like to be Bob Hope Hope I wouldn t have it any other way From Bob Hope s early career as an upstart among professionals like Jack Benny and Milton Berle in the rollicking world of traveling comedians to his blazing success as a radio television and film star this completely revised and updated version of William Faith's acclaimed biography takes a straightforward appreciative and very funny look at Hope's life and times on the occasion of his 100th birthday. Filled with anecdotes, photographs, and plenty of jokes, the book reveals the real Bob Hope from his boyhood in England and youth in Cleveland to his present status as a living legend: a full-blooded, authentic appraisal of the man and his humor, a comic institution who is also a brilliant businessman, manipulator of the media, and politically influential figure. And of course, Hope is the man who brought laughter and cheer and long-legged beauties to GIs throughout the world. At a time when patriotic fervor has never been running higher, it's worth recalling the singular tribute paid Hope by none other than John Steinbeck. When the time for recognition of service to the nation in wartime comes to be considered, Bob Hope should be high on the list. He gets laughter wherever he goes from men who need laughter. Happy 100th, Bob.

THE ENCYCLOPEDIA AMERICANA, 1920 Film Year Book, 1938 The Art of Selling Movies John McElwee, 2017-02-20. The Art of Selling Movies presents the first ever look at 60 years of newspaper advertising for motion pictures, great and small. These ads, created by Hollywood and adapted by local and regional exhibitors, motivated patrons to leave their homes, part with precious income, and spend time in the dark. Because of the high stakes involved, theater operators used wildly creative means to make that happen. They made movie advertising equal parts art and psychology, appealing to every human instinct, especially sex, in an effort to push product and keep their theaters in business. From the pen and ink masterpieces of the 1920s and 30s to location-specific folk art to ad space jam-packed with enticements for every member of the family, The Art of Selling Movies dissects the psyche of the American movie-going public and the advertisers seeking to push just the right buttons.
