American Poster Renaissance Outlet, Victor Margolin, 1988-12-01 American poster design during the 1890s is surveyed through profiles of the leading artists and a collection of posters from magazines, books, newspapers, and exhibitions The Golden Age of the American Poster Victor Margolin, 1976 American Poster Renaissance Victor Margolin, 1975 The heyday of the poster was the last decade of the 19th century when the poster came into its own as the perfect advertising medium touting plays, periodicals, patent medicines, and a vast array of newfangled manufactured goods from bicycles to dynamite American Poster Renaissance Victor Margolin, 1975 Artists, Advertising, and the Borders of Art Michele H. Bogart, 1995 In the first study of its kind Michele H. Bogart explores in unprecedented detail the world of commercial art: its illustrators, publishers, art directors, photographers, and painters. She maps out the border between art and commerce and expands our picture of artistic culture and practice in the twentieth century with unexpected pairings of Norman Rockwell and Andy Warhol, J.C. Leyendecker and Georgia O'Keeffe, the Metropolitan Museum of Art and Pepsi Cola, the avant-garde and the Famous Artists Schools, Inc. All of Us or None Lincoln Cushing, 2014-05-01 A riveting survey of almost three hundred posters revealing a history of Bay Area artists, activists, and movements from the 1960s to 2012. This catalog of political posters pays homage to an influential and populist art movement that has created some of the most enduring imagery of our time. In All of Us or None, author Lincoln Cushing examines key selections from a remarkable archive of over 24,000 posters amassed by free speech movement activist, author, and educator Michael Rossman over the course of thirty years. This inspiring collection of Bay Area posters illuminates the history of this ad hoc and ephemeral art form, celebrating its unique capacity to infuse contemporary issues with the urgency and energy of the eternal fight for justice. Featuring posters on topics as diverse as civil rights, war, poverty, the environment, music, women's liberation, fine art, and gentrification, All of Us or None shows us why the Bay Area was such fertile breeding ground for the genre and why it arguably produced more independent political posters than anywhere else on earth. Here is an exhilarating history of artists, studios, printshops, distributors, activists, icons, and changemakers among them: R. Crumb, Stanley Mouse, Cesar Chavez, Max Scherr Emory Douglas, Angela Davis, the San Francisco Mime Troupe, Bill Graham, and Pete Seeger, together raising their voices in opposition to the status quo. In spring of 2012, the Oakland Museum of California presented its first comprehensive exhibition of this recently acquired treasure; the show, along with this book, presented an unbroken narrative of passionate social justice printmaking from the mid-1960s to 2012. This engaging catalogue surveys nearly 300 of the late Michael Rossman's enormous collection of over 24,000 San Francisco Bay Area social justice posters. With fluid, highly accessible prose, Cushing traces the lineage of images that have now become iconic, such as Frank Cieciorka's often-quoted clenched fist or the Black Panther Party's panther symbol as rendered by Emory Douglas and others. Publishers Weekly: An extremely remarkable and useful book, remarkable because it brings back so many of the memorable images of rebellion, political cultural and both together from a past now rapidly receding and useful because in our new era of protest creative expression in artistic forms is more badly needed than ever Lincoln Cushing a distinguished scholar of political art has given us a small masterpiece Paul Buhle publisher of the SDS magazine Radical America and author of more than forty books on radical politics and culture Meggs' History of Graphic Design Philip B.
