American Progress:

Rich People's Movements Isaac William Martin, 2015-02 Why do protesters sometimes take to the streets to demand lower taxes on the rich In this urgently relevant study sociologist Isaac William Martin examines how these protesters used tactics that they learned in movements of the poor and powerless and sometimes won big Political Discourse Analysis

Samuel Gyasi Obeng, Beverly Hartford, 2008 The authors focus on the analysis of language possibly in conjunction with other semiotic systems in the course of our lives as citizens of established polities of various scopes The text includes social or human sciences insofar as they deal with discourse as politic behaviour Concurrent Resolution on the Budget for Fiscal Year ... United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on the Budget, 2014 American Monthly Review of Reviews

Albert Shaw, 1901 Money, Power, Respect Macaela MacKenzie, 2023-06-27 An inside look at how women athletes are leading the fight for equality on and off the field Women's sports receive a fraction of the airtime allotted for men's sports as well as a fraction of the marketing dollars media coverage and training resources For every dollar that the NBA's highest paid player brings home the WNBA's highest paid player earns just half a cent But while misogyny in sports is particularly visible it's not unique Women athletes face the same sexist barriers found in all career fields the motherhood penalty transphobia and misogynoir underpromotion and more But women in sports are fighting back debunking myths that women aren't as skilled competitive or capable of generating revenue as men Drawing on exclusive interviews with prominent athletes including Allyson Felix Megan Rapinoe and Billie Jean King journalist Macaela Mackenzie shows how women are using sports as a platform for change As women athletes push for the same things all women want in their careers money power and respect their wins are showing the rest of us what's possible in the fight for equality American Economist, 1903

Cradle to Kindergarten Ajay Chaudry, Taryn Morrissey, Christina Weiland, Hirokazu Yoshikawa, 2021-03-25 Early care and education in the United States is in crisis The period between birth and kindergarten is a crucial time for a child's development Yet vast racial ethnic and socioeconomic disparities that begin early in children's lives contribute to starkly different long term outcomes for adults Compared to other advanced economies child care and preschool in the U S are scarce prohibitively expensive and inadequate in quality for most middle and low income families To what extent can early life opportunities provide these children with the same life chances of their affluent peers and contribute to reduced social inequality in the long term and across generations The updated second edition of Cradle to Kindergarten offers a comprehensive evidence based strategy that diagnoses the obstacles to accessible early education and charts a path to opportunity for all children The U S government invests less in children under the age of five than do most other developed nations Most working families must seek private child care but high quality child care options are expensive relative to the means of most families This means that children from lower income households who would benefit most from high quality early education are the least likely to attend them Existing policies such as pre kindergarten in some states are only partial solutions and what exists varies tremendously in terms of access and quality To address these deficiencies the authors propose to overhaul the early care and education system beginning with a federal paid parental leave policy that provides both mothers and fathers with time and financial support after the birth of a child They also advance an expansion of the child care tax credit and a new child care assurance program that provides grant assistance towards the cost of high quality early care for low and moderate income families Their plan establishes universal high quality early education in the states starting by age three and a reform of the Head Start program that would include more intensive services for families living in areas of concentrated poverty and experiencing multiple adversities from the earliest point in these most disadvantaged children s lives They conclude with an implementation plan and contend that these reforms are attainable well within a ten year timeline Reducing educational and economic inequalities requires that all children have robust opportunities to learn and fully develop their capacities and have a fair shot at success Cradle to Kindergarten presents a blueprint for fulfilling this promise by expanding access to educational and financial resources at a critical stage of child development
