Amongst The Autumn Morning:

AMONGST FARM HORSES Stephen Counce, 2016-08-26 This book is a unique and detailed account of a rural way of life formed from extensive academic research and oral testimony recorded in the 1970s. It tells of the farm servant system in East Yorkshire which was central to the rural economy in that area for men born before 1900. Boys as young as 13 would be looking after and working with as many as 4 heavy horses in a team. Their lives would be spent living in the farmhouse and would continue that way until they married. Rural history forms an essential part of national history with different parts of the UK having very varied employment systems. This book describes how, although having roots deep in history, the East Riding farming system was thoroughly modern and profitable, paying good wages to its workers. Telling the stories of their lives in their own words, this book brings to life the intimate details of a distant way of living and working. Among the Righteous

Robert Satloff, 2007-10-09 Not a single Arab has been honored for saving Jews during the Holocaust. Looking for a hopeful response to the plague of Holocaust denial sweeping across the Arab and Muslim worlds, Satloff sets off on a quest to find the Arab hero whose story will change the way Arabs view Jews and themselves. 8 page b/w photo insert. Among Ourselves (Federal Reserve Club of Chicago), 1923 Among the Indians of Guiana Sir Everard Ferdinand Im Thurn, 1883

The Mayans Among Us Ann L. Sittig, Martha Florinda González, 2016-03 The Mayans Among Us conveys the unique experiences of Central American indigenous immigrants to the Great Plains, many of whom are political refugees from repressive war-torn countries. Ann L. Sittig, a Spanish instructor, and Martha Florinda González, a Mayan community leader living in Nebraska, have gathered the oral histories of contemporary Mayan women living in the state and working in meatpacking plants. Sittig and González initiated group dialogues with Mayan women about the psychological, sociological, and economic wounds left by war, poverty, immigration, and residence in a new country. Distinct from Latin America's economic immigrants and often overlooked in media coverage of Latino and Latina migration to the plains, the Mayans share their concerns and hopes as they negotiate their new home, culture, language, and life in Nebraska. Longtime Nebraskans share their perspectives on the immigrants as well. The Mayans Among Us poignantly explores how Mayan women in rural Nebraska meatpacking plants weave together their three distinct identities: Mayan, Central American, and American.

Among the Wild Tribes of the Afghan Frontier Theodore Leighton Pennell, 1909 Among School Teachers Joel Westheimer, 1998 A compelling and thoroughly readable account of two middle schools, one urban and one suburban, that attempt to build communities which will foster student growth and learning. This book shatters prevailing beliefs and furthers our understanding of the ways in which teachers' relationships impact their work and their lives in schools. This is no once-over-lightly piece of research. Joel Westheimer leaves in tatters the tapestry of rhetoric that has been woven by reformers around the idea that all teacher communities are alike and that building them requires only a few hardy souls with moxie and determination. From the Foreword by Larry Cuban, Stanford University, Westheimer's account is at once passionate and
