Constructed Roman Alphabet:

A Constructed Roman Alphabet David Lance Goines, 1982      Constructed Roman alphabet; a geometric analysis of the Greek and Roman capitals and of the Arabic numerals (a). D.L. Goines, 1982      Text and Territory Sylvia Tomasch, Sealy Gilles, 2016-11-11 Twelve literary scholars and historians investigate the ways in which space and place are politically religiously and culturally inflected Exploring medieval texts as diverse as Icelandic sagas Ptolemy's Geography and Mandeville's Travels the contributors illustrate the intimate connection between geographical conceptions and the mastery of land the assertion of doctrine and the performance of sexuality      The Typological Imaginary Kathleen Biddick, 2013-10-09 In this book Kathleen Biddick investigates the fate of the enduring timelines fabricated by early Christians to distinguish themselves from their Jewish neighbors Ranging widely across the history of text technology and book art she relates three interwoven stories the Christians translation of circumcision into a graphic problem of writing on the heart the temporal construction of Christian notions of history based on the binary supersession of an Old Testament past by the present of a new dispensation and the traumatic repetition of the graphic cutting off of Christians from Jews in academic history and anthropology Moving beyond well studied theological polemics Biddick works from the relatively unfamiliar vantage point of the graphic technologies used in medieval and early modern texts and print sources from maps to trial transcripts to universal histories Addressing current concerns about the posthuman condition by linking them to a deeper genealogy of disembodiment at the technological heart of imaginary fantasies she argues that such supersessionary practices extend to contemporary psychoanalytic and postcolonial texts even as they propose alternative ways of thinking about memory and temporality Crucial to Biddick's study is the ethical challenge of unbinding the typological imaginary not in order to disavow theological difference but rather to open up the encounter between Christian and Jew to less deadening teleological readings Making a significant contribution to the large debate over the transition from scriptural to scientific culture in Europe The Typological Imaginary also succeeds in shedding light on the centrality of Jews to medieval and Enlightenment history      Inscribing Science Timothy Lenoir, 1998 Metaphors of inscription and writing figure prominently in all levels of discourse in and about science The description of nature as a book written in the language of mathematics has been a common trope since at least the time of Galileo a metaphor supplemented in our own day by the characterization of DNA sequences as the code for the book of life decipherable in terms of protein semantic units An important recent direction in the fields of science and literature studies is to consider such descriptions as more than metaphoric as revelatory of the processes of signification in science more generally Nearly everywhere we look the semiotic turn is upon us Recent science and technology studies have been characterized by a rich diversity of research directions manifesting several trends apparently counter to one another On the one hand stands the rich tradition of detailed microstudies of experiments instruments and scientific practice on the other hand are grouped studies grander in scope aimed at examining science within the framework of cultural production This volume of sixteen essays seeks common ground among these different approaches by juxtaposing work from historically focused science and literature studies with work inspired by poststructuralist philosophy and semiotics The contributors are Gillian Beer Lisa Bloom Robert Brain Lorraine Daston Richard M Doyle David Gugerli Hans Ulrich Gumbrecht Friedrich Kittler Timothy Lenoir Alex Pang Philip Prodger Hans J rg Rheinberger Robin Rider Brian Rotman Simon Schaffer and Bernhard Siegert

Whitechapel Art Gallery in the years 1969-73 and 1978-85. In this second period under the directorship of Nicholas Serota the gallery came to the forefront of the London art scene with pioneering exhibitions of work by Georg Baselitz, Anselm Kiefer, Joseph Cornell, Philip Guston, Frida Kahlo and Tina Modotti among others. Hollis's posters, catalogues and leaflets conveyed this sense of discovery as well as being models of practical graphic design. The pressures of time and a small budget enhanced the urgency and richness of their effects. Christopher Wilson's monograph is an exemplary examination of a body of graphic design. This book matches the spirit of the work it describes: active, passionate, aesthetically refined and committed to getting things right. As in Hollis's work, design here is a verb as much as a noun.

Precision Type Font Reference Guide Jeff Level, Bruce Newman, Brenda Newman, 1995. Typography is one of the most important graphic elements in any document. This guide contains the widest variety of font software available from leading developers: Adobe Systems, Agfa, Bitstream, Letraset, Linotype, Monotype and many others. There is also a comprehensive index which lists each font by name with its type foundries.
