Contemporary Arab Thought:

Contemporary Arab Thought Elizabeth Suzanne Kassab, 2010 During the second half of the twentieth century the Arab intellectual and political scene polarized between a search for totalizing doctrines nationalist Marxist and religious and radical critique Arab thinkers were reacting to the disenchanting experience of postindependence Arab states as well as to authoritarianism intolerance and failed development They were also responding to successive defeats by Israel humiliation and injustice The first book to take stock of these critical responses this volume illuminates the relationship between cultural and political critique in the work of major Arab thinkers and it connects Arab debates on cultural malaise identity and authenticity to the postcolonial issues of Latin America and Africa revealing the shared struggles of different regions and various Arab concerns

Contemporary Arab Thought Elizabeth Suzanne Kassab, 2025-04-29 In the last third of the twentieth century the Arab intellectual and political scene polarized between totalizing doctrines nationalist Marxist and religious and radical critique Arab thinkers were reacting to the disenchanting experience of postindependence and a widespread sense of malaise as well as to authoritarianism intolerance injustice failed development and successive defeats by Israel The foundational account of these responses Contemporary Arab Thought illuminates the relationship between cultural and political critique in the work of major Arab thinkers Elizabeth Suzanne Kassab also connects Arab debates to the postcolonial issues of Latin America and Africa revealing the shared struggles of different regions Since its first publication in 2009 this book has stood as the foremost account of contemporary Arab debates on culture philosophy modernity tradition identity and liberation It is widely used in Middle Eastern studies courses and it has become a classic in the field of Arab intellectual history Contemporary Arab Thought now features an extensive new introduction that reconsiders post 1967 Arab intellectual history in light of the 2011 uprisings and the upheavals that have occurred over the intervening years Kassab critically reflects on the book's arguments and the responses it has provoked and she surveys the new preoccupations that have emerged in Arab debates since 2011 As crises again overtake the Middle East this landmark work continues to offer indispensable insight into the richness of contemporary Arab thought Trends and Issues in Contemporary Arab Thought

Issa J. Boullata, 1990 This book focuses on contemporary Arab thought during the past twenty years especially since the 1967 Arab defeat in the Six Day War Well known Arab writers are studied and their unprecedented and anguished exercise of self examination and self criticism is explored A number of Arab thinkers are presented for the first time in English Here is an account of some of the most recent intellectual trends in the Arab world As the writers grapple with the Arab desire for social change with ideas of freedom and equality and social justice and with the problem of accommodating Arab culture to modern times their will to preserve their national identity is displayed The role played by Islam in the current Arab discourse is analyzed as Arab intellectuals creatively interpret their present predicament in order to make it meaningful in the present day Arab thought is seen here to be in crisis as it reflects this reality and questions the legitimacy of Arab political regimes

Much of the present turmoil in the Arab world can be better understood in light of this insightful treatment of contemporary Arab thinkers because it shows how the Arabs themselves feel what they think about their own contemporary life and how they envision their future Contemporary Arab Thought Ibrahim M. Arabic Thought against the Authoritarian Age Jens Hanssen,Max Weiss,2018-02-15 In the wake of the Arab uprisings the Middle East descended into a frenzy of political turmoil and unprecedented human tragedy which reinforced regrettable stereotypes about the moribund state of Arab intellectual and cultural life This volume sheds important light on diverse facets of the post war Arab world and its vibrant intellectual literary and political history Cutting edge research is presented on such wide ranging topics as poetry intellectual history political philosophy and religious reform and cultural resilience all across the length and breadth of the Arab world from Morocco to the Gulf States This is an important statement of new directions in Middle East studies that challenges conventional thinking and has added relevance to the study of global intellectual history more broadly Contemporary Arab Thought and Women Arab Women's Solidarity Association.

The Time of Turāth Harald Viersen,2024-12-02 Recent Arab intellectual debates are often described as revolving around Arab Islamic cultural heritage tur th and the role that it ought to play in modern society This debate is standardly characterized as a confrontation between traditionalists and modernists the former idolizing an authentic heritage the latter blaming traditionalism for Arab society s inability to modernize This study argues that this standard narrative has become overly dominant making it impossible for different perspectives to be either voiced or heard It calls for a critical review of how we think about contemporary Arab thought through an analysis of the progressive linear temporal structure underlying the authenticity modernity dichotomy Looking in detail at three Arab intellectuals of the last fifty years Zak Naj b Ma m d Adonis and Abd al Ra m n h the study shows how this temporal structure underlies their thinking but also how their efforts to break away from it build on a critique of its temporal basis This analysis in turn enables an overhaul of the authenticity modernity paradigm which not only leads to a richer critical engagement with contemporary Arab thought but also brings out its moral dimensions Islam in the Age of Globalization Asif Mohiuddin,2024-11-29 Islam in the Age of Globalization explores the complex relationship between Islam and globalization From challenging prevailing notions to examining historical influences and contemporary perspectives this book delves into the multifaceted dimensions of Islam s interaction with international forces Arab-Islamic Philosophy Muḥammad 'Ābid Jābirī,1999 The distinguished Moroccan philosopher Mohammed Abed al Jabri in this summary of his own work examines the status of Arab thought in the late twentieth century Al Jabri rejects what he calls the current polarization of Arab thought between an imported modernism that disregards Arab tradition and a fundamentalism that would reconstruct the present in the image of an idealized past Both past and present intellectual currents are examined Al Jabri first questions the current philosophical positions of the liberals the Marxists and the fundamentalists Then he turns to history exploring Arab philosophy in the tenth and twelfth centuries a time of political and ideological struggle In the writings of Ibn Hazm and Averro s he identifies the beginnings of Arab rationalism a rationalism he traces through the innovative fourteenth century work of Ibn Khaldun Al Jabri offers both Western readers and his own compatriots a radical new approach to Arab thought one that finds in the past the roots of an open critical rationalism which he sees as emerging in the Arab world today

Criticism of Essentialism in Contemporary Arab Thought Michel Mounir

Kabalan,American University of Beirut. Faculty of Arts and Sciences. Department of Philosophy,2006 Many contemporary Arab thinkers philosophers consider themselves to be addressin g issues that pertain specifically to the Arab world rather than to humanity in general or fundamental questions in metaphysics epistemology etc For exampl e they ask How is the Arab world to enter modernity if that is indeed desirab le Or How is to forge its own way in the modern or post modern era if modern ity is not desirable Or What compromise is possible between Arab Islamic trad ition and modern ideology Or What ideology is best suited to Arab political li fe nationalist socialist Islamist etc Or What intellectual obstacles l ie in the way of Arab cultural political and economic development In asking t hemselves these and related questions some of these thinkers make rather broad generalizations about Arab Islamic civilization Arab culture Islamic trad ition or even the Arab mind In so doing have they fallen into the trap of cultural essentialism Is it possible to address such points without lapsing int o cultural essentialism First when we look at the AlJabiri Tarabichi debate and compare it to the above questions around cultural essentialism we see clearly that at least some think ers namely AlJabiri who address these issues fall squarely into the trap of cultural essentialism And Tarabichi does a fairly good job of pointing out AlJabiri's essentialist generalizations and of highlighting the fallacies and misconceptions of cultural essentialism e.g. that there are many different trends and tendencies within Arab Islamic civilization and tradition some rationalist some legalistic etc This brings us to another important question which is Is it possible to address the kinds of questions that interest contemporary Arab thinkers without committing the sin of cultural essentialism In other words can one talk about e.g. the possibility of reconciling Arab Islamic traditions with modernity but without making sweeping and unjustified generalizations about the essence of Arab culture or the Arab mind etc Here is where we need to take a closer look at these authors AlAroui and Nassar to see whether they managed to avoid the trap that AlJabiri falls into
