Country Life, 1897-1997 Roy C. Strong, 1996 Published to celebrate the centenary of Country Life magazine this book examines the changing role of the magazine over the years from the Arcadian era before the First World War to the countryside of today

Country Life, 1997

English Landed Society in the Great War Edward Bujak, 2018-10-18 The extent to which the Great War impacted upon English landed society is most vividly recalled in the loss of young heirs to ancient estates English Landed Society in the Great War considers the impact of the war on these estates Using the archives of Country Life Edward Bujak examines the landed estate that flourished in England In doing so he explores the extent to which the wartime state penetrated into the heartlands of the landed aristocracy and gentry and the corrosive effects that the progressive and systematic militarization of the countryside had on the authority of the squire The book demonstrates how the commitment of landowners to the defence of an England of home and beauty an image also adopted in wartime propaganda ironically led to its transformation By using the landed estate to examine the transition from Edwardian England to modern Britain English Landed Society in the Great War provides a unique lens through which to consider the First World War and its impact on English society

Outlaw Fathers in Victorian and Modern British Literature Helena Gurfinkel, 2014-03-27 Outlaw Fathers in Victorian and Modern British Literature Queering Patriarchy traces the representations of outlaw fathers or queer patriarchs and their relationships with their queer sons in a particular literary tradition mid to late Victorian and twentieth century British fiction and memoir Specifically I look at such representations in Anthony Trollope's Doctor Thorne 1858 and The Prime Minister 1875-76 while also drawing on An Autobiography 1883 and The Duke's Children 1880 Samuel Butler's The Way of All Flesh published in 1901 Henry James's The Lesson of the Master 1888 J R Ackerley's My Father and Myself written in the 1930s and published in 1968 E M Forster's Little Imber 1961 with an occasional detour into The Longest Journey 1907 Howards End 1909 and Maurice published in 1971 and Alan Hollinghurst's The Spell 1998 In the coda I consider the implications of including transgender transnational female to male fathers of color in the ranks of queer patriarchy and discuss two contemporary novels Jackie Kay's Trumpet 1998 Scotland and Patricia Powell's The Pagoda 1998 Jamaica and the United States as well as briefly an episode an episode of the television show The L Word 2008 and the documentary U People 2007 The term queer patriarchy has two components The first one is a non traditional primarily but not exclusively non heterosexual pervasively present and culturally important paternal subjectivity The second one is the bond between such queer paternal figures and their sons biological and non biological This study pays attention primarily to the relationship between psyche language and ideology but it will join a larger conversation about the changing roles of men in general and fathers in particular which is taking place outside of the field of literary studies
