The Country of the Blind H. G. Wells,2018-08-14 The Country of the Blind By H G Wells Herbert George Wells was perhaps best known as the author of such classic works of science fiction as The Time Machine and War of the Worlds But it was in his short stories written when he was a young man embarking on a literary career that he first explored the enormous potential of the scientific discoveries of the day He described his stories as a miscellany of inventions yet his enthusiasm for science was tempered by an awareness of its horrifying destructive powers and the threat it could pose to the human race A consummate storyteller he made fantastic creatures and machines entirely believable and by placing ordinary men and women in extraordinary situations he explored with humor what it means to be alive in a century of rapid scientific progress We are delighted to publish this classic book as part of our extensive Classic Library collection Many of the books in our collection have been out of print for decades and therefore have not been accessible to the general public The aim of our publishing program is to facilitate rapid access to this vast reservoir of literature and our view is that this is a significant literary work which deserves to be brought back into print after many decades The contents of the vast majority of titles in the Classic Library have been scanned from the original works To ensure a high quality product each title has been meticulously hand curated by our staff Our philosophy has been guided by a desire to provide the reader with a book that is as close as possible to ownership of the original work We hope that you will enjoy this wonderful classic work and that for you it becomes an enriching experience
