Coupling Of Climate And Economic Dynamics Essays On Integrated Assessment:

The Coupling of Climate and Economic Dynamics Alain Haurie, Laurent Viguier, 2009-09-03 This book reviews the different approaches used to model the dynamic interactions between climate and economies and proposes new avenues of research Its fourteen chapters deal with various aspects of the building of integrated assessment models either by coupling economic growth and climate change modules or using mathematical models of viability or dynamic game theory to represent the interactions between the world regions concerned

Uncertainty and Environmental Decision Making Jerzy A. Filar, Alain Haurie, 2010-05-03 The 21st century promises to be an era dominated by international response to certain global environmental challenges such as climate change depleting biodiversity and biocapacity as well as general atmospheric water and soil pollution problems Consequently Environmental decision making EDM is a socially important field of development for Operations Research and Management Science OR MS certainty is an important feature of these decision problems and it intervenes at very different time and space scales The Handbook on Uncertainty and Environmental Decision Making provides a guided tour of selected methods and tools that OR MS offer to deal with these issues Below we briefly introduce peer reviewed chapters of this handbook and the topics that are treated by the invited authors The first chapter is a general introduction to the challenges of environmental decision making the use of OR MS techniques and a range of tools that are used to deal with uncertainty in this domain

Climate Change 2007 - Mitigation of Climate Change Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change, 2007-11-12 The Climate Change 2007 volumes of the Fourth Assessment Report of the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change IPCC provide the most comprehensive and balanced assessment of climate change available This IPCC Working Group III volume provides a comprehensive state of the art and worldwide overview of scientific knowledge related to the mitigation of climate change It includes a detailed assessment of costs and potentials of mitigation technologies and practices implementation barriers and policy options for the sectors energy supply transport buildings industry agriculture forestry and waste management It links sustainable development policies with climate change practices This volume will again be the standard reference for all those concerned with climate change including students and researchers analysts and decision makers in governments and the private sector

Climate Change, Service Economy and Industry Junmo Kim, 2010-10-27 This book shows how industries perceive weather as they pose their positioning in climate change adaptation With empirical analysis this book extends policy discussion Weather and climate related industries are clearly knowledge intensive service sectors that have not blossomed yet Holding his Ph D degree from the LBJ School Dec 1997 Junmo Kim is a Professor at the Dept of Public Admin Konkuk University in Seoul Korea Before coming to the University he has served as an Associate Research fellow at two government funded research institutes the Science Technology Policy Institute STEPI and Korea Inst of Public Admin KIPA His areas of interests include Science Industrial Technology Policy Regional Development Wage analysis and Policy Evaluation At the university he teaches

Brebbia, V. Popov, 2009-06-12 and Reduction Book Jacket Climate Variability and Extremes during the Past 100 years Stefan Brönnimann, Jürg Luterbacher, Tracy Ewen, Henry F. Diaz, Richard S. Stolarski, Urs Neu, 2007-12-20 This volume provides an up to date overview of climate variability during the 20th century in the context of natural and anthropogenic variability It compiles a number of contributions to a workshop held in Gwatt Switzerland in July 2006 dealing with different aspects of climate change variability and extremes during the past 100 years The individual contributions cover a broad range of topics The volume fills a gap in this exciting field of research Climate Variability, Predictability and Climate Risks Heinz Wanner, Martin Grosjean, Regine Röthlisberger, Elena Xoplaki, 2007-04-05 This book provides an integrated assessment of issues related to climate variability and change predictability and risks It details both the technical aspects of variability and abrupt climate change and the agricultural and economical impacts and consequences Climate Change 2007: Mitigation of climate change, 2007 Dynamic Games: Theory and Applications Alain Haurie, Georges Zaccour, 2005-12-06 Dynamic games continue to attract strong interest from researchers interested in modelling competitive as well as conflict situations exhibiting an intertemporal aspect Applications of dynamic games have proven to be a suitable methodology to study the behaviour of players decision makers and to predict the outcome of such situations in many areas including engineering economics management science military biology and political science Dynamic Games Theory and Applications collects thirteen articles written by established researchers It is an excellent reference for researchers and graduate students covering a wide range of emerging and revisited problems in both cooperative and non cooperative games in different areas of applications especially in economics and management science The Energy Journal, 2006 The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells, 2005 Washington Reports Washington (State). Supreme Court, Richard F. Jones, Solon Dickerson Williams, 2006 Energy Supply and Climate Change W. Blum, 2009 Bibliographic Index, 2009 Faraway, So Close Francesco Lamperti, 2017 In this paper we develop the first agent based integrated assessment model which offers an alternative to standard computable general equilibrium frameworks The Dystopian Schumpeter meeting Keynes DSK model is composed of heterogeneous firms belonging to capital good consumption good and energy sectors Production and energy generation leads to greenhouse gas emissions which affect temperature dynamics in a non linear way Increasing temperature triggers climate damages hitting at the micro level workers labor productivity energy efficiency capital stock and inventories of firms In that aggregate damages are emerging properties of the out of equilibrium interactions among heterogeneous and boundedly rational agents We find the DSK model is able to account for a wide ensemble of micro and macro empirical regularities concerning both economic and climate dynamics Moreover different types of shocks have heterogeneous impact on output growth unemployment rate and the likelihood of economic crises Finally we show that the magnitude and the uncertainty associated to climate change impacts increase over time and that climate damages much larger than those estimated through standard integrated assessment models Our results point to the presence of tipping points and irreversible trajectories thereby suggesting the need of urgent policy interventions

Alain Haurie,2003 Agrindex ,1992 Integrated Assessment of Climate Change Using Structural Dynamic Models , The interaction of society economy and the climate system has been studied for the integrated assessment IA of climate change using a cost benefit analysis CBA Structural dynamic models have been developed and applied to highlight two topics rarely addressed in current CBA IA models the different objectives that drive the actions of economic and societal actors and the representation of economic growth The models include an explicit description of the basic dynamic processes of the system in contrast to the general equilibrium approach of standard economics The general Structural Dynamic Integrated Assessment Model SDIAM described in this thesis is developed from two basic models the Structural Dynamic Economic Model SDEM and the impulse response function climate model NICCS Hooss et al 2001 SDEM focuses on the interaction of entrepreneurs and workers and describes growth as the consequence of profit driven productivity increase Entrepreneurs invest to enhance productivity this generates profits that decay subsequently due to factor cost increases Persistently positive profits require persistently growing productivity Economic growth is achieved when part of the profits is also invested to enlarge the capital stock In SDIAM society is introduced as an additional actor Further extensions to SDEM are modules for energy costs climate change NICCS and climate damage costs Intangible climate damages enter directly in the societal welfare function while tangible damages affect the entrepreneurial welfare function To enhance its welfare society influences economic decision making by imposing levies on CO2 emissions Entrepreneurs optimize within the levy framework which they take as given Numerical experiments with these models yield the following results Without societal action the transition from a fossil fuel based to a non fossil driven energy system depends on the cost dynamics of fossil fuels and climate damage costs it starts
