Butrint 5: Life and Death at a Mediterranean Port William Bowden, 2020-02-19 This is the second volume arising from the 1994 2003 excavations of the Triconch Palace at Butrint Albania which charted the history of a major Mediterranean waterfront site from the 2nd to the 15th centuries AD The sequence Butrint 3 Excavations at the Triconch Palace Oxbow 2011 included the development of a palatial late Roman house followed by intensive activity between the 5th and 7th centuries involving domestic occupation metal working fishing and

burial The site saw renewed activity from the 10th century coinciding with the revival of the town of Butrint and for the following 300 years continued in intermittent use associated with its channel side location This volume reports on the finds from the site excluding the pottery which demonstrate the ways in which the lives diet and material culture of a Mediterranean population changed across the arc of the late Roman and Medieval periods It includes discussion of the environmental evidence the human and faunal remains metal working evidence and the major assemblages of glass coins and small finds giving an insight into the health subsistence base and material culture of the population of a Mediterranean site across more than 1000 years The findings raise important questions regarding the ways in which changes in the circumstances of the town affected the population between Late Antiquity and the Middle Ages They illustrate in particular how an urban Roman center became more rural during the 6th century with a population that faced major challenges in their health and living conditions

Divine Pleasures Terence McInerney, Steven M. Kossak, Navina Najat Haidar, 2016-06-14 As one of the finest holdings of Indian art in the West the Kronos Collections are particularly distinguished for paintings made between the sixteenth and early nineteenth centuries for the Indian royal courts in Rajasthan and the Punjab Hills These outstanding works many of which are published and illustrated here for the first time are characterized by their brilliant colors and vivid powerful depictions of scenes from Hindu epics mystical legends and courtly life They also present a new way of seeking the divine through a form of personal devotion known as bhakti that had permeated India's Hindu community While explaining the gods demons lovers fantastical creatures and mystical symbols that are central to literature and worship this publication celebrates the diverse styles and traditions of Indian painting Divine Pleasures features an informative entry for each work and two essays by scholar Terence McInerney that together outline the history of Indian painting and the Rajput courts providing fresh insights and interpretations Also included are a personal essay by expert and collector Steven M Kossak and an examination of Hindu epic and myth in Mughal painting which lays important foundations for Rajput painting by curator Navina Najat Haidar Through their research and observations the authors deepen our understanding and underscore the significance of Indian painting Divine Pleasures presents a nuanced view of a way of life intimately tied to the seasons the arts and the divine
