Constructing The Holocaust:

Constructing the Holocaust Dan Stone, 2003 On the one hand then this is traditional historiography the history of history writing On the other hand the problem is approached via recent work in the philosophy of history closely analysing historical works as texts This is an interdisciplinary study that brings to bear on historiography the kind of textual analysis usually reserved for fiction testimony or film The Holocaust precisely because it throws into doubt older methodologies demands the search for new ones Showing how Holocaust historians inadvertently and paradoxically reinscribe into the wider culture patterns of thought that the Holocaust repudiated Constructing the Holocaust tries to respond to the Holocaust in a way that recognises its potential impact on usually unquestioned beliefs and unspoken methodological assumptions BOOK JACKET

Histories of the Holocaust Dan Stone, 2010-06-17 A comprehensive and accessible guide to the major themes and debates in Holocaust historiography over the last two decades The Holocaust and Historical Methodology Dan Stone, 2012-08-01 In the last two decades our empirical knowledge of the Holocaust has been vastly expanded Yet this empirical blossoming has not been accompanied by much theoretical reflection on the historiography This volume argues that reflection on the historical process of re constructing the past is as important for understanding the Holocaust and by extension any past event as is archival research It aims to go beyond the dominant paradigm of political history and describe the emergence of methods now being used to reconstruct the past in the context of Holocaust historiography Report to the President and the Congress of the United States United States. Advisory Council on Historic Preservation, 1993 The Holocaust's Ghost F. C. DeCoste, Bernard Schwartz, 2000-05 Numerous scholars explore the moral aesthetic and political outcomes of the Holocaust from the perspectives of various academic backgrounds including art literature political science education and history Constructing Identity, "souped-up" and "unplugged", 1998 Remembering the Road to World War Two Patrick Finney, 2010-09-13 Remembering the Road to World War Two is a broad and comparative international survey of the historiography of the origins of the Second World War It explores how in the case of each of the major combatant countries historical writing on the origins of the Second World War has been inextricably linked with conceptions of national identity and collective memory Constructing a Sense of Place Haim Yacobi, 2004 Practicing and academic Israeli architects along with scholars of history geography and art from there and elsewhere critically examine the inherent nexus between ideology and the construction of a sense of place and explore the role of architecture and planning as efficient yet polemic practices that serve the hegemonic agenda The two interrelated themes on which their studies pivot are the role of architects and planners architecture and planning as mediators between national ideology and the politicization of space and how the very act of shaping the landscape contributes to the construction of a sense of place The Apartheid Wall is not mentioned Creating the Witness Leshu Torchin, 2012-10-30 Since the beginning of the conflict in 2003 more than 300 000 lives have been lost in Darfur Players of the video game Darfur Is Dying learn this sobering fact and more as they work to ensure the survival of a virtual refugee camp The video game not only puts players in the position of a struggling refugee it shows them how they can take action in the real world Creating the Witness examines the role of film and the Internet in creating virtual witnesses to genocide over the last one hundred years The book asks how do visual media work to produce witnesses audiences who are drawn into action The argument is a detailed critique of the notion that there is a seamless trajectory from observing an atrocity to acting in order to intervene According to Leshu Torchin it is not enough to have a camera images of genocide require an ideological framework to reinforce the messages the images are meant to convey Torchin presents wide ranging examples of witnessing and genocide including the Armenian genocide the Holocaust engaging film as witness in the context of the Nuremburg trials and the international human rights organization WITNESS and its sustained efforts to use video to publicize human rights advocacy and compel action From a historical and comparative approach Torchin s broad survey of media and the social practices around it investigates the development of popular understandings of genocide to achieve recognition and response both political and judicial ultimately calling on viewers to act on behalf of human rights

The Holocaust's Jewish Calendars Alan Rosen,2019-02-28 The most comprehensive to date treatment of these precious artifacts of the Holocaust s Jewish efforts to maintain religious observations and identity Choice Calendars map time shaping and delineating our experience of it While the challenges to tracking Jewish conceptions of time during the Holocaust were substantial Alan Rosen reveals that many took great risks to mark time within that vast upheaval Rosen inventories and organizes Jewish calendars according to the wartime settings in which they were produced from Jewish communities to ghettos and concentration camps The calendars he considers reorient views of Jewish circumstances during the war and show how Jews were committed to fashioning traditional guides to daily life even in the most extreme conditions In a separate chapter moreover he elucidates how Holocaust era diaries sometimes served as surrogate Jewish calendars All in all Rosen presents a revised idea of time continuity the sacred and the mundane the ordinary and the extraordinary even when death and destruction were the order of the day Rosen s focus on the Jewish calendar the ultimate symbol of continuity as weekday follows weekday and Sabbath follows Sabbath sheds new light on how Jews maintained connections to their way of conceiving time even within the cauldron of the Holocaust Rosen demonstrates the relationship between time and meaning between meaning and holiness between holy days and the divine presence all of which came under assault in the Nazis effort to kill Jewish souls before destroying Jewish bodies David Patterson author of Along the Edge of Annihilation The Collapse and Recovery of Life in the Holocaust Diary The Oxford Companion to Politics of the World Joel Krieger,Margaret E.
