Constructivism And Comparative Politics:

Constructivism and Comparative Politics Daniel M. Green,2002-02-27 This work presents an approach to the study of comparative politics that builds on the assumption that political actors and institutions operate within constructed communities of meaning which in turn interface with other such communities

Constructivism and Comparative Politics Richard T Green,2016-09-16 This work presents an approach to the study of comparative politics that builds on the assumption that political actors and institutions operate within constructed communities of meaning which in turn interface with other such communities

Comparative Politics Mark Irving Lichbach,Alan S. Zuckerman,2009-02-09 This revised edition of Comparative Politics offers an assessment of the past decade of scholarship in comparative politics

Constructivist Turn in Political Representation Lisa Disch,2019-01-22 This volume traces the roots of the constructivist turn in the distinct and competing traditions of Continental and Anglo American Western political thought Divided into three thematic parts these 13 newly commissioned essays develop the constructivist turn as a central concept They advance the insight that there can be no democratic politics without representation constituencies or groups exist as agents of democratic politics only insofar as they are represented

Postpositivist International Relations Theory Amartya Mukhopadhyay,2023-10-16 This book discusses postpositivist theories foregrounding postpositivism against the reigning realist and positivist pluralist orthodoxies The book explicates seven theories not as disparate endeavours but as developments linked by a common thread that seeks to enunciate globalist emancipatory goals for the theoretical field and the world that these theories seek to change It focuses on the following themes feminism environmentalism or green theory the English School critical theory constructivism postmodernism and postcolonialism Additionally a separate chapter on globalization shows that while mainstream neo realist international relations theories respond hostilely to globalization and liberal pluralist theories react benignly to it postpositivist theories positively welcome it The book offers a competent meta theoretical gridwork showing on which side of the opposing disciplinary positions in the fourth debate each of the seven theories are located It is a comprehensive guide to the postpositivist restructuring of the discipline of international relations This book will be of interest to researchers and students of political science international relations history humanities and literature

Political Constructivism Peri Roberts,2007-10-25 This volume explores the nature and possibilities of constructivism through an engagement and examination of the foremost constructivist positions Rawls and O'Neill

Comparative Politics Mark Irving Lichbach,Alan S. Zuckerman,2009-02-02 Comparative Politics Rationality Culture and Structure is a revised second edition of the volume that guided students and scholars through the intellectual demands of comparative politics Retaining a focus on the field's research schools it now pays parallel attention to the pragmatics of causal research Mark Lichbach begins with a review of discovery explanation and evidence and Alan Zuckerman argues for explanations with social mechanisms Ira Katznelson writing on structuralist analyses Margaret Levi on rational choice theory and Marc Ross on culturalist analyses assess developments in the field's research schools. Subsequent chapters explore the relationship among the paradigms and current research: the state, culturalist themes, and political economy; the international context of comparative politics; contentious politics; multi-level analyses; nested voters; endogenous institutions; welfare states; and ethnic politics. The volume offers a rigorous and exciting assessment of the past decade of scholarship in comparative politics.

Foreign Policy in a Constructed World Vendulka Kubalkova, 2001-07-19. This volume demonstrates the application of the constructivist approach to the analysis of foreign policy, i.e. states' actions in a world of states. Part I introduces constructivism for foreign policy studies. Part II presents five model case studies: the Cold War, Francoism, the two Chinas, inter-American relations, and Islam in U.S. foreign policy. Part III reviews their results.

The Autocratic Parliament Irene Weipert-Fenner, 2020-03-23. When protests erupted in response to the 2010 Egyptian parliament elections that were widely viewed as fraudulent, many wondered: Why now? Voters had never witnessed free and fair elections in the past, so why did these elicit such an outcry? To answer this question, Weipert-Fenner conducted the first study of politics in modern Egypt from a parliamentary perspective. Contrary to the prevailing opinion that autocratic parliaments are meaningless token institutions, Weipert-Fenner's long-term analysis shows that parliament can be an indicator, catalyst, and agent of change in an authoritarian regime. Comparing parliamentary dynamics over decades, Weipert-Fenner demonstrates that autocratic parliaments can grow stronger within a given political system. They can also become contentious when norms regarding policies, political actors, and institutions are violated on a large scale and/or at a fast pace. Most importantly, a parliament can even turn against the executive when parliamentary rights are withdrawn or when widely shared norms are violated. These and other recurrent patterns of institutional relations identified in The Autocratic Parliament help explain long spans of stable yet never stagnant authoritarian rule in colonial and postcolonial periods alike, as well as the different types of regime change that Egypt has witnessed: those brought about by external intervention, by revolution, or by military coup.

Annual Review of Political Science, 2006. The mission of Annual Review of Political Science is to provide systematic, periodic examinations of the field through critical, authoritative reviews. The comprehensive critical review not only summarizes a topic but also roots out errors of fact or concept and provokes discussion that will lead to new research activity. Each review contains title, author's key words, abstracts, review, and bibliography.

Explaining Croatia's \(non\)compliance with EU conditionality on ICTY cooperation Christian Menz, 2013-08-13. Bachelor Thesis from the year 2010 in the subject Politics. Topic: European Union, grade 2.3. University of Passau, language: English, abstract: Due to the positive experience with tying progress in negotiations with progress in reform in Central and Eastern Europe (CEE), the European Union (EU) made its membership offer to the Western Balkans (WB) countries conditional on specific democratic principles, most notably full cooperation with the International Criminal Tribunal for the former Yugoslavia (ICTY) and respect for the Dayton Peace Accord. Yet although EU membership is regarded as highly attractive both for political elites and the general public in the region, the erratic record of compliance with ICTY related EU conditionality raises questions about the EU's ability to provide for rule transfer and norm diffusion in the current enlargement round and poses a puzzle to scholars of international relations and EU enlargement alike. As I will demonstrate for the case of Croatia both the Račan 2000-2003 and Sanader governments since 2003 have seen many ups and downs of ICTY cooperation. The core question this study addresses is: What factors explain variation in Croatia's compliance with ICTY related EU conditionality? The investigation period sets in with the democratic turn in 2000 and ends in December 2005 when the last remaining indictee left for The Hague.

Problems of Post-communism, 2008 One Policy Many Identities Hasan Ulusoy, 2007 New Systems Theories of World Politics Mathias Albert, Lars-Erik Cederman, Alexander Wendt, 2010-01-13 New Systems Theories of World Politics uses systems theoretical approaches to analyze the structure and dynamics of the international system. Drawing from different systems theoretical traditions it argues that the system of world politics can be analyzed in a comprehensive fashion by continuing the pioneering work of theorists like Karl Deutsch.

Readings in Comparative Politics Mark Kesselman, Joel Krieger, 2006 Readings in Comparative Politics is divided into six sections: States and Regimes, Governing the Economy, the Democratic Challenge, Politics of Collective Identity, Political Institutions and Public Policies, and Political Challenges and Changing Agendas that correspond to the four main themes found in Kesselman's Introduction to Comparative Politics survey text. The selected readings are drawn from a variety of published, unpublished, and electronic sources. They tend to be general and theoretical in nature and were carefully selected to provide a good sample of the wide range of popular and scholarly views relevant to the major topics presented in introductory courses. The readings provide an extended opportunity to consider the four main themes used in the textbook: A World of States, Governing the Economy, the Democratic Challenge, and the Politics of Collective Identity. Excerpts are culled from a variety of sources including scholarly articles from journals and books, op-ed and newspaper articles, government statements, and statements by interest groups and NGOs in the U.S. and other countries including published sources and material disseminated by the Internet.
