Challenging Citizenship Group Membership And Cultural Identity In A Global Age:

Challenging Citizenship Taylor & Francis Group,2019-05-31 Over the last ten years citizenship has become an area of interdisciplinary research and teaching in its own right This book highlights that globalization poses new challenges for established understandings and practices of citizenship and that intellectual work is required to fashion models of citizenship better suited to present problems and realities In particular this volume emphasizes the pluralization of identities and communities within states brought about by such forces as mass immigration global communication substate regionalism and more generally the fragmentation of modern notions of nation The challenge is to devise forms of democracy and political identity adequate to these globalized conditions Ideally suited to anyone interested in globalization cultural diversity and citizenship

The Psychology of Global Citizenship Stephen Reysen,Iva Katzarska-Miller,2020-07-17 In The Psychology of Global Citizenship A Review of Theory and Research Stephen Reysen and Iva Katzarska Miller provide a theoretical and empirical overview of global citizenship and related concepts The authors highlight core components shared by a variety of disciplines and cultures and linked to pro social values such as the promotion of empathy diversity environmental sustainability and intergroup helping Utilizing a social psychological perspective Reysen and Katzarska Miller provide an integrated approach to global citizenship identification with their model of antecedents global awareness and normative environment and outcomes six clusters of pro social values

The Global Reception of John Dewey's Thought Rosa Bruno-Jofre,Jürgen Schriewer,2012-03-29 This volume explores the reception of John Dewey s ideas in various historical and geographical settings such as Japan China Argentina Mexico Chile Spain Russia and Germany analyzing how and why Dewey s thought was interpreted in various ways according to mediating local discursive and ideological configurations and formations

Global Identity in Multicultural and International Educational Contexts Nigel Bagnall,2015-03-27 The increased movement of people globally has changed the face of national and international schooling Higher levels of mobility have resulted from both the willing movement of students and their families with a desire to create a better life and the forced movement of refugee families travelling away from war famine and other extreme circumstances This book explores the idea that the complex connections created by the forces of globalisation have led to a diminishing difference between what were once described as international schools and national schools By examining a selection of responses from students attending international schools in Brazil the United Kingdom France Germany the Philippines and Switzerland the book discusses key issues surrounding identity and cosmopolitan senses of belonging Chapters draw from current literature and recent qualitative research to highlight the concerns that students face within the international school community including social psychological and academic difficulties The interviews provide a rich and unique body of knowledge demonstrating how perceptions of identity and belonging are changing especially with affiliation to a national or a global identity The notion that international students have become global citizens through their affiliation to a global rather than a national identity exhibits a changing and potentially irreversible trend Global Identity in Multicultural and International Educational Contexts will be of key interest to researchers academics and policy makers involved with international schooling and globalised education The Oxford Handbook of Citizenship Ayelet Shachar, Rainer Bauboeck, Irene Bloemraad, Maarten Vink, 2017-08-03 Contrary to predictions that it would become increasingly redundant in a globalizing world citizenship is back with a vengeance The Oxford Handbook of Citizenship brings together leading experts in law philosophy political science economics sociology and geography to provide a multidisciplinary comparative discussion of different dimensions of citizenship as legal status and political membership as rights and obligations as identity and belonging as civic virtues and practices of engagement and as a discourse of political and social equality or responsibility for a common good The contributors engage with some of the oldest normative and substantive quandaries in the literature dilemmas that have renewed salience in today's political climate As well as setting an agenda for future theoretical and empirical explorations this Handbook explores the state of citizenship today in an accessible and engaging manner that will appeal to a wide academic and non academic audience Chapters highlight variations in citizenship regimes practiced in different countries from immigrant states to non western contexts from settler societies to newly independent states attentive to both migrants and those who never cross an international border Topics include the selling of citizenship multilevel citizenship in between statuses citizenship laws post colonial citizenship the impact of technological change on citizenship and other cutting edge issues This Handbook is the major reference work for those engaged with citizenship from a legal political and cultural perspective Written by the most knowledgeable senior and emerging scholars in their fields this comprehensive volume offers state of the art analyses of the main challenges and prospects of citizenship in today's world of increased migration and globalization Special emphasis is put on the question of whether inclusive and egalitarian citizenship can provide political legitimacy in a turbulent world of exploding social inequality and resurgent populism

Ethnic and Racial Minorities in Asia Michelle Ann Miller, 2014-02-25 Ethnic and Racial Minorities in Asia explores the relationship between ethnic minority rights and citizenship in Asia Occupying a prominent place on the global map of conflict Asia is one of the most ethnically diverse and racially divided regions in the world It is also the scene of some of the most contrasting state responses to ethnic and racial conflicts ranging from violent military repression and coercion on the one hand to offers of autonomy and other forms of self rule aimed at granting minorities more equal and inclusive citizenship on the other This volume combines conceptual debates about citizenship with case studies of ethnic minorities from across the Asian region with a particular emphasis on Southeast Asia The contributing authors question the nature of citizenship in the broader sense of identity belonging and the rights and responsibilities of ethnic minorities in relation to sovereign nation states They examine a wide range of key issues including minority rights claims ethnic and racial conflict citizenship constructions and representations of identity post colonialism and human security This book was originally published as a special issue of

Ethnic and Racial Studies Citizenship Rights Igor Štiks, 2017-05-15 In today's world all claims tend to be founded on or justified by rights be they political social economic or private The ubiquity of this discourse has led to a blurring of the definition of what exactly constitutes rights not to mention a blurring of the boundaries between different bundles of rights their sources and the various institutional practices through which they are enjoyed or asserted Particular attention needs to be paid to the category of citizenship rights Exactly how are they distinguished from human rights This volume presents some of the most important reflections and studies on citizenship rights both past and present The contributions provide both thorough description and incisive analysis and place the question of citizenship rights into a wider historical social and political perspective As such it offers a timely introduction to the current debates surrounding the rights and duties of both citizens and non citizens alike with a focus on the many ways in which citizenship is contested in the contemporary world The volume is invaluable to scholars and students of citizenship studies political and critical theory human rights sociology urban development and law Challenging Citizenship Sor-hoon Tan, 2005 Economists political scientists and philosophers mostly from China Australia and Britain approach the notion of citizenship from a variety of perspectives Among the themes are how perennial problems manifest in the global age new challenges and possibilities generated by globalization the adequacy of liberal approaches that dominate theories Adivasis, Migrants and the State in India Jagannath Ambagudia, 2018-12-07 This book looks at the contested relationship between Adivasis or the indigenous peoples migrants and the state in India It delves into the nature and dynamics of competition and resource conflicts between the Adivasis and the migrants Drawing on the ground experiences of the Dandakaranya Project when Bengali migrants from erstwhile East Pakistan now Bangladesh were rehabilitated in eastern and central India the author traces the connection between resource scarcity and the emergence of Naxalite politics in the region in tandem with the key role played by the state He critically examines the way in which conflicts between these groups emerged and interacted were shaped and realised through acts and agencies of various kinds as well as their socio economic cultural and political implications The book explores the contexts and reasons that have led to the dispossession deprivation and marginalisation of Adivasis Through rich empirical data this book presents an in depth analysis of a contemporary crisis It will be useful to scholars and researchers of political studies South Asian politics conflict studies political sociology cultural studies sociology and social anthropology Comparative Philosophy and Religion in Times of Terror Douglas Allen, 2006-08-31 Ever since the terrorist attacks of September 11th 2001 concerns about violence terror and terrorism have dominated our contemporary lifestyle Is religion a part of the problem or the solution Can philosophical reflection help us to understand terror violence and insecurity Can comparative philosophy and religion help us to overcome ethnocentrism dangerous stereotypes and think about new approaches to violence and terror The authors of these timely studies provide brilliant insight into violence and terror as formulated by Plato Aristotle the Buddha Confucius Af Farabi Nietzsche Dewey Ueshiba Gandhi and Abdul Ghaffar Khan Their diverse voices consider the threat of violence from various standpoints taking religious and philosophical discourse as the starting point of the approach This is a hopeful volume that offers new creative insights for the future These studies allow us to analyze the real problems of violence terror and insecurity in much broader and deeper ways and they present new approaches that offer possibilities for greater nonviolence security and peace

The Right to Roam Dualta Roughneen,2010 Nomadic groups and sedentary society have been in conflict throughout the ages and the conflict continues to this day For the most part it is nomadic groups who have been the losers in these conflicts The idea of human rights has traveled around the world in response to some of the great conflicts of our time The Right to Roam Travellers in the Modern Nation State TM examines the right of nomadic groups to maintain a way of life that is contrary to the drive toward sedentarisation and modernisation If human rights are to exist one approach to the derivation of rights is that they are to exist as protectors of the autonomy of individuals When the autonomy of individuals is threatened by restrictions on their liberty then the protection of human rights is required For Travellers in Ireland restrictions on the freedom to maintain a Travelling lifestyle have consequences for members of the Travelling community oeThe Right to Roam Travellers in the Nation State TM explores the impact of recent legislation such as the Housing Miscellaneous Provisions Act of 2002 on Travellers in modern Ireland and whether progress driven be sedentary society should be required to include the needs of nomadic groups
