Changing The Way We Work:

How the Way We Talk Can Change the Way We Work Robert Kegan, Lisa Laskow Lahey, 2002-12-13 Why is the gap so great between our hopes our intentions even our decisions and what we are actually able to bring about Even when we are able to make important changes in our own lives or the groups we lead at work why are the changes are so frequently short lived and we are soon back to business as usual What can we do to transform this troubling reality In this intensely practical book Harvard psychologists Robert Kegan and Lisa Laskow Lahey take us on a carefully guided journey designed to help us answer these very questions And not just generally or in the abstract They help each of us arrive at our own particular answers that can solve the puzzling gap between what we intend and what we are able to accomplish How the Way We Talk Can Change the Way We Work provides you with the tools to create a powerful new build it yourself mental technology

Changing the Way We Work R Meredith Belbin, 2013-07-23 How many problems at work arise from the way in which jobs are set up Either people don't have a clear understanding of their duties and responsibilities spending time and energy disentangling them from those of their co workers or they are hemmed in by job specifications that allow no room for movement and initiative An alternative system is needed where jobs can grow and develop where communication about the work can flow up as easily as down Dr Belbin describes a radical approach incorporating colour coding and information technology derived from experiments now being undertaken in three countries Workset is a new means of delivering greater efficiency in a dynamic process that equally involves managers and jobholders Dr R Meredith Belbin regarded as the father of team role theory for his widely read Management Teams Why they succeed or fail and its successor Team Roles at Work obtained his first and higher degree at Cambridge University Later in a research lecturing or consulting capacity he has visited and worked in many countries In 1988 he founded Belbin Associates which produces Interplace a computer based Human Resource Management System now used world wide
