Changing Europe Identities Nations And Citizens:

Changing Europe David Dunkerley, Lesley Hodgson, Stanislaw Konopacki, Tony Spybey, Andrew Thompson, 2003-08-29 This clear and accessible textbook provides an introduction to the key issues now shaping the new Europe and its citizens

Changing Europe, 2002 Introduction to issues shaping new Europe and its citizens such as the idea of Europe development of the nation state European identity and challenges posed by citizenship migration human rights regionalism and nationalism

Europeanism John McCormick, 2010-06-03 In Europeanism the author attempts to identify and outline the political economic and social norms and values associated with Europe and Europeans He argues that regardless of the doubts associated with the exercise of European integration and the work of the European Union and regardless of residual identities with states and nations Europeans have much in common Opening chapters deal with the historical development of European ideas and are followed by chapters addressing European attitudes toward the state including a rejection of state based nationalism new ideas about patriotism and citizenship and the importance of cosmopolitanism the characteristics of politics and government in Europe with an emphasis on communitarianism and the effects of the parliamentary system of government European economic models including the importance of welfarism and sustainable development European social models European attitudes towards values such as multiculturalism and secularism and Europeanist views in regard to international relations emphasizing civilian power and multiculturalism

Representations of European Citizenship since 1951 Stefanie Pukallus, 2016-08-29 This book is a study of the multiple meanings of European citizenship which has been represented and publicly communicated by the European Commission in five distinctive ways Homo Oeconomicus 1951 1972 A People's Europe 1973 1992 Europe of Transparency 1993 2004 Europe of Agora 2005 2009 and Europe of Rights 2010 2014 The public communication of these five distinct representations of European citizenship reveal how the European Commission conceived of and attempted to facilitate the development of a Civil Europe Ultimately this history which is based upon an analysis of public communication policy papers and interviews with senior European Commission officials past and present tells a story about changing identities and about who we as Europeans might actually be and what kind of Europe we might actually belong to

Finding Political Identities Alistair Ross, 2018-07-28 This book examines how young people in Europe construct their political identities Based on small discussion groups with 2000 young people across 29 European states Alistair Ross explores how 13 to 20 year olds build identities in contemporary society creating contingent narratives of local national and European identities with families friends and social media As well as exploring what these kaleidoscopic identities look like and the sources they draw on it also examines how these accounts are assembled and integrated with each other The study uses deliberative discussions to allow young people to develop their own constructs and terms in conversation with each other This analysis presents a complex polyphonic of political beliefs and values of rights which young Europeans attach to political structures and institutions that often transcend traditional boundaries of state and nation

Finding Political Identities will be of interest to postgraduate students and academics across Education Sociology Politics and European Studies especially those with a focus on Social Constructionism Citizenship Identity Studies Social Policy and Youth Studies

European Identity in the Context of National Identity Bettina Westle, Paolo Segatti, 2016 This book provides an unprecedented insight into the multiple ways through which citizens of 16 countries connect their own national identity to European identity

Global Environment Problems And Policies Vol# 4 Ed. K.R. Gupta, Klaus Bosselmann & Prasenjit Maiti, 2008-04

Supranational Citizenship and the Challenge of Diversity Francesca Strumia, 2013-09-05 In Supranational Citizenship and the Challenge of Diversity Francesca Strumia explores the potential of European citizenship as a legal construct and as a marker of group boundaries for filtering internal and external diversities in the European Union Adopting comparative federalism methodology and drawing on insights from the international relations literature on the diffusion of norms the author questions the impact of European citizenship on insider outsider divides in the EU as experienced by immigrants set by member states and perceived by native citizens The book proposes a novel argument about supranational citizenship as mutual recognition of belonging This argument has important implications for the constitution of insider outsider divides and for the reconciliation of multiple levels of diversity in the EU

The Principle of Sustainability Klaus Bosselmann, 2016-12-08 This book investigates how sustainability informs key principles and concepts of domestic and international law It calls for the recognition of ecological sustainability as a fundamental principle to guide the entire legal system rather than just environmental legislation To this end the book makes a contribution to global environmental constitutionalism a rapidly growing area within comparative and international environmental law and constitutional law This 2nd edition has been fully revised and updated to take account of recent developments and new case law The book will be a valuable resource for students researchers and policy makers working in the areas of environmental law and governance

Stanford Journal of International Relations, 2003

European Union--the Second Founding Ludger Kühnhardt, 2008 The author is presenting a broadly structured study about the first fifty years of European integration its geopolitical context and academic reflection His study is based on the two fold thesis that since a few years the European Union is going through a process of its Second Founding while simultaneously changing its rationale

Nationalisms Across the Globe: Europe Wojciech J. Burszta, Tomasz Kamusella, Sebastian Wojciechowski, 2005

Western Europe Wayne C. Thompson, 2007-08

Political Refugees Monica K. Zimmermann, 2008 A refugee is a person who owing to a well founded fear of being persecuted for reasons of race religion nationality membership of a particular social group or political opinion is outside the country of their nationality and is unable to or owing to such fear is unwilling to avail him herself of the protection of that country according to the 1951 United Nations Convention Relating to the Status of Refugees The concept of a refugee was expanded by the Conventions 1967 Protocol and by regional conventions in Africa and Latin America to include persons who had fled war or other violence in their home country A person who is seeking to be recognised as a refugee is an asylum seeker In the United States a recognised asylum seeker is known as an asylee Refugee was defined as a legal group in response to the large numbers of people fleeing Eastern Europe following World War II The lead international agency coordinating refugee protection is the Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees UNHCR which counted 28 4 million refugees world wide at the beginning of 2006 This was the lowest number since 1980 The major exception is the 4 3 million Palestinian refugees under the authority of the United Nations Relief and Works Agency for Palestine Refugees in the Near East UNRWA who are the only group to be granted refugee status to the descendants of refugees according to the above definition The U S Committee for Refugees and Immigrants gives the world total as 12 019 700 refugees and estimates there are over 34 000 000 displaced by war including internally displaced persons who remain within the same national borders The majority of refugees who leave their country seek asylum in countries neighbouring their country of nationality The durable solutions to refugee populations as defined by UNHCR and governments are voluntary repatriation to the country of origin local integration into the country of asylum and resettlement to a third country This book presents the latest thinking in this field Latvia's View of the Future of the European Union Žaneta Ozoliņa,2007 Europe at Schools in South Eastern Europe Siegfried Gehrmann,2003 ZEI discussion paper ,2004 Post-national Citizenship and the State Isabel Estrada Carvalhais,2007 Lifelong Learning Bibliography ,2005 EU and the Balkans Leila Simona Talani,2008 Integration and disintegration are the two poles of economic political and security discourse in an area Balkans and Southern Eastern Europe SEE This book assesses the extent to which the integration of the Balkans into the EU will either foster or discourage the integration of the area itself and the winners and losers under this process
