Changing Identities In Early Modern France:

Changing Identities in Early Modern France Natalie Zemon Davis, 1997 Changing Identities in Early Modern France Michael Wolfe, 1997 After examining the interplay between competing ideologies and public institutions from the monarchy to the Parlement of Paris to the aristocratic household the volume explores the dynamics of deviance and dissent particularly in regard to women's roles in religious reform movements and such sensationalized phenomena as the witch hunts and infanticide trials

The Analysis of Virtue in Alasdair MacIntyre and His View of "The Enlightenment Project" Benjamin Okon MSP, 2016-04-15 MacIntyre is greatly discontented with the nature of contemporary morality which according to him has a form i.e. what appears like morality but lacks essential content He argues that the most common feature of contemporary ethical discourse is that much of it is used to express individual preferences which leads to disagreements among philosophers and eventually results in debates that are interminable in character MacIntyre attributes the cause of this situation to the activities of the enlightenment philosophers of the 17th and 18th centuries who in an attempt to find rational justification for morality repudiated those essential elements that define the essence of morality and give it its contents Such elements include historical narrative tradition teleology and divine law In MacIntyre's opinion morality so constructed was destined for failure since it was not founded on the true nature of the human person The obvious consequences of this failure were the birth of diverse post enlightenment ethical theories and a substantial change in the conception of virtue In order to remedy this deplorable condition of contemporary ethics MacIntyre along with other virtue ethicists advocates a certain renaissance of ethical principles that are founded on the true nature of the human person characterized by historical narrative tradition and teleology all grounded on divine legislation Morality thus reconstructed finds its fullest expression in the theory of human character traits i.e. virtues This is what has motivated MacIntyre's construction of virtue theory which has brought him into confrontation with the enlightenment philosophers Our study and analysis of MacIntyre's theory of virtue reveals that his account of virtue is inadequate This inadequacy is what has motivated our own project of reconstructing MacIntyre's theory of virtue in view of offering an account of virtue that is adequate In this way our own project complements that of MacIntyre

Authority and Society in Nantes During the French Wars of Religion, 1558-1598 Elizabeth C. Tingle is Senior Lecturer in History at the University of Northampton, Elizabeth C. Tingle, 2013-07-19 Elizabeth Tingle explores the theory and practice of authority during the sixteenth century in France through an examination of the religious culture and political institutions of the city of Nantes She provides a survey of the socio economic structures of the mid sixteenth century city

The Power and Patronage of Marguerite de Navarre Barbara Stephenson, 2017-07-05 Although Marguerite de Navarre's unique position in sixteenth century France has long been acknowledged and she is one of the most studied women of the time until now no study has focused attention on Marguerite's political life Barbara Stephenson here fills the gap delineating Marguerite's formal political position and highlighting her actions as a figure with the opportunity to exercise power through both official and unofficial channels Through Marguerite s surviving correspondence Stephenson traces the various networks through which this French noblewoman exercised the power available to her to further the careers of political and religious clients as well as her struggle to protect the interests of her brother the king and those of her own family and household The analysis of Marguerite s activities sheds light on noble society as a whole Identity and Coexistence in the Early Modern Mediterranean Eric Dursteler,2000 The Journal of Medieval and Early Modern Studies ,1998 The Voices of Nîmes Suzannah Lipscomb,2019 Most of the women who ever lived left no trace of their existence on the record of history In this book Suzannah Lipscomb recovers the lives and aspirations of ordinary sixteenth and seventeenth century French women using rich source material to show what they thought about their lives menfolk friendships faith and sex Conspiracies and Conspiracy Theory in Early Modern Europe Barry Coward,Julian Swann,2004 For many generations Guy Fawkes and his gunpowder plot the Man in the Iron Mask and the Devils of Loudun have offered some of the most compelling images of the early modern period Conspiracies real or imagined were an essential feature of early modern life offering a seemingly rational and convincing explanation for patterns of political and social behaviour This volume examines conspiracies and conspiracy theory from a broad historical and interdisciplinary perspective by combining the theoretical approach of the history of ideas with specific examples from the period Each contribution addresses a number of common themes such as the popularity of conspiracy theory as a mode of explanation through a series of original case studies Individual chapters examine for example why witches religious minorities and other groups were perceived in conspiratorial terms and how far if at all these attitudes were challenged or redefined by the Enlightenment Cultural influences on conspiracy theory are also discussed particularly in those chapters dealing with the relationship between literature and politics As prevailing notions of royal sovereignty equated open opposition with treason almost any political activity had to be clandestine in nature and conspiracy theory was central to interpretations of early modern politics Factions and cabals abounded in European courts as a result and their actions were frequently interpreted in conspiratorial terms By the late eighteenth century it seemed as if this had begun to change and in Britain in particular the notion of a loyal opposition had begun to take shape Yet the outbreak of the French Revolution was frequently explained in conspiratorial terms and subsequently European rulers and their subjects remained obsessed with conspiracies both real and imagined This volume helps us to understand why Debating Women, Politics, and Power in Early Modern Europe Sharon L. Jansen,2008-03-15 The sixteenth century was an age of politically powerful women Queens acting in their own right and female regents acting on behalf of their male relatives governed much of Western Europe Yet even as women ruled and ruled effectively their right to do so was hotly contested Men s voices have long dominated this debate but the recovery of texts by women now allows their voices long silenced to be heard once again Debating Women Politics and Power in Early Modern Europe is a study of texts and textual production in the construction of gender society and politics in the early modern period Jansen explores the gynecocracy debate and the larger humanist response to the challenge posed by female sovereignty Politics and Religion in Early Bourbon France Alison Forrestal, Eric Nelson, 2009-04-22 This book explores the political and religious world of early Bourbon France focusing on the search for stable accord that characterised its political and religious life Chapters examine developments that shaped the Bourbon realm through the century assertions of royal authority rules of political negotiation and the evolution of D vot piety Archiv Für Reformationsgeschichte ,2009 The Journal of Ecclesiastical History Clifford William Dugmore, 2002 Faith and Fantasy in the Renaissance Olga Zorzi Pugliese, Ethan Matt Kavaler, 2009 Ideas and Contexts in France and England from the Renaissance to the Romantics John Hearsey McMillan Salmon, 2000 These essays examine the thought and works of a series of writers on political thought religion historiography and literature from the 16th century to the 19th Throughout the author is concerned to situate individual thinkers in the context of their times and in many of the essays to illuminate the links between intellectual currents in France and England Particular topics include Gallicanism Neostoicism the historical novel and constitutionalism while the figures dealt with range from Bodin and Hotman in the Renaissance to Descartes and La Rochefoucauld in the Grand Si cle and Condorcet and Diderot in the Enlightenment Less familiar figures include the Oxford historian Degory Wheare and the French constitutional theorist Henrion de Pansey Among the topics treated in the Romantic era are comparisons between the French and English revolutions and the French obsession with Oliver Cromwell Current Contents, April 12, 1999 ,1999 Undermining Obedience in Absolutist France Daniella J. Kostroun, 2000 Das Geheimnis am Beginn der europäischen Moderne Gisela Engel, 2002 Proceedings of the ... Annual Meeting of the Western Society for French History Western Society for French History. Meeting, 2000 Historiein ,2000
