Changing Image:

The Changing Image of the Sciences Ida H. Stamhuis, Teun Koetsier, Cornelis De Pater, Albert Van Helden, 2012-12-06 The title of our book would lead the reader to believe that in speaking of the changing image of the sciences we are taking for granted the multiplicity of sciences as these are practiced for instance in modern universities That was of course not always the case Although we can point to some subjects for instance mathematical astronomy as being demarcated to some extent from other subjects as far back as Antiquity the current division into individual sciences can hardly be traced back further than the nineteenth century Moreover the further we go back in history the more we must subsume science under general knowledge or scholarship scientia Some of the earliest images of episteme or scientia are those of forbidden knowledge often related to technology on the one hand and the absent minded scholar on the other These are powerful metaphors in word as well as image that have been appropriated in various ages for different purposes The Greeks gave Western society its first images of the power of knowledge and those who produced it Prometheus ridiculed the gods stole their fire and brought it down to Earth For this Zeus had him chained to a rock on Mount Caucasus where a vulture fed on his liver during the day while it grew back at night He was finally freed by Heracles

Changing Images in Mathematics Umberto Bottazini, Amy Dahan Dalmedico, 2013-06-17 This book focuses on some of the major developments in the history of contemporary 19th and 20th century mathematics as seen in the broader context of the development of science and culture Avoiding technicalities it displays the breadth of contrasting images of mathematics favoured by different countries schools and historical movements showing how the conception and practice of mathematics changed over time depending on the cultural and national context Thus it provides an original perspective for embracing the richness and variety inherent in the development of mathematics Attention is paid to the interaction of mathematics with themes whose proper treatment have been neglected by the traditional historiography of the discipline such as the relationship between mathematics statistics and medicine

"Harmonious World" and China's New Foreign Policy Sujian Guo, Jean-Marc F. Interactive Distributed Multimedia Systems and Telecommunication Services Michel Diaz, Philippe Owezarski, Patrick Senac, 2007-07-23 The 1999 International Workshop on Interactive Distributed Multimedia Systems and Telecommunication Services IDMS in Toulouse is the sixth in a series that started in 1992. The previous workshops were held in Stuttgart in 1992, Hamburg in 1994, Berlin in 1996, Darmstadt in 1997, and Oslo in 1998. The area of interest of IDMS ranges from basic system technologies such as networking and operating system support to all kinds of teleservices and distributed multimedia applications. Technical solutions for telecommunications and distributed multimedia systems are merging and quality of service (QoS) will play a key role in both areas. However, the range from basic system technologies to distributed multimedia applications and teleservices is still very broad and we have to understand the implications of multimedia applications and their requirements for middleware and networks. We are challenged to develop new and more fitting solutions for all distributed multimedia systems and telecommunication services to meet the requirements of the future information society.
