Canadian Book Review Annual, 1999 Home Words Mavis Reimer, 2009-08-01 The essays in Home Words explore the complexity of the idea of home through various theoretical lenses and groupings of texts. One focus of this collection is the relation between the discourses of nation which often represent the nation as home and the discourses of home in children's literature which variously picture home as a dwelling family town or region psychological comfort and a place to start from and return to. These essays consider the myriad ways in which discourses of home underwrite both children's and national literatures. Home Words reconfigures the field of Canadian children's literature as it is usually represented by setting the study of English and French language texts side by side and by paying sustained attention to the diversity of work by Canadian writers for children including both Aboriginal peoples and racialized Canadians. It builds on the literary histories bibliographical essays and biographical criticism that have dominated the scholarship to date and sets out to determine and establish new directions for the study of Canadian children's literature.
