Chaim Perelman Alan G. Gross, Ray D. Dearin, 2003-01-01 This accessible book examines the philosophical foundations of Chaim Perelman's rhetorical theory. In addition to offering a brief biography, it explores Perelman's deep philosophical commitments and his concern for the ways in which the details of actual texts realize those commitments. The authors show that Perelman still reigns supreme when it comes to the elucidation of actual texts. His is a micro-analysis of arguments, one that is endlessly suggestive of ways of analyzing texts at the level of the word and phrase, the arrangement of parts, and the structure of arguments. The New Rhetoric of Chaim Perelman Ray D. Dearin, 1989 The work of Chaim Perelman must be regarded as crucially influential in the 20th century restoration of rhetoric to its rightful place in the intellectual tradition of Western culture. In Perelman's masterly elaboration of New Rhetoric, the ancient art becomes again a respected Chapter of the method of learning and resumes its role of vital relevance to the human condition. The growing importance of Perelman's thought in recent years, particularly to the fields of philosophy, ethics, communication, and law, suggests the need for this collection. It crystallizes Perelman's rhetorical thought in his own writings and presents representative responses to his New Rhetoric from scholars in rhetoric and communication. Contents include Perelman's Philosophical Perspective, Carlin Romano and Ray D. Dearin, Perelman's Contributions to Rhetorical Thought, Critical Responses to the New Rhetoric, Karl R. Wallace, J. Robert Cox, Lisa S. Ede, Allen Scult, Louise A. Karon, Jam Measell, Don Abbot, Ray D. Dearin, Ralph T. Eubanks, Appendix: The New Rhetoric and the Rhetoricians, Chaim Perelman. Practical Reasoning in Human Affairs J. L. Golden, J. J. Pilotta, 2012-12-06 This anthology of original essays has been nearly two and one-half years in the making and reflects the generous effort of many persons. To begin with, we thank the contributors to the volume who not only cooperated with regards to their own works but who also provided valuable advice concerning the overall volume. One of the contributors was outstanding in his assistance and warrants special mention: we thank Professor Michel Meyer for his encouragement, counsel, and dedication to see this project to completion. We would also like to thank Professor Jaakko Hintikka for his encouragement and Mrs. Kuipers of Reidel for her patience and understanding along the way. A project such as this could never have been completed without the unique assistance of members of the Department of Communication, Ohio State University: Ms. Kimberly Pasi and Mr. Charles Mawhirt. Also, special thanks are due to our graduate research assistant, Ms. Susan Jasko, for her proofreading and bibliographic work. The pressures of developing a Festschrift are considerable and could not have been met without the cooperation and enthusiasm of Mrs. Perelman, especially in allowing us to publish Professor Perelman's address to Ohio State University as our introduction. The New Rhetoric of Chaim Perelman Ray D. The Intellectual and Cultural Origins of Chaim Perelman and Lucie Olbrechts-Tyteca's New Rhetoric Project Michelle Bolduc, David A. Frank, 2023-04-12 Chaim Perelman alone and in collaboration with Lucie Olbrechts Tyteca developed the New Rhetoric Project NRP which is in use throughout the world Sir Brian Vickers in his historical survey of rhetoric and philosophy for the Oxford Encyclopaedia of Rhetoric states that the NRP is one of the most influential modern formulations of rhetorical theory This book provides the first deep contextualization of the project's origins offers seven original translations of the writings of Perelman and Olbrechts Tyteca from French into English and details how their collaboration effectively addresses then philosophical problems of our age

The New Rhetoric Chaim Perelman, L. Olbrechts-Tyteca, 1991-09-30 The New Rhetoric is founded on the idea that since argumentation aims at securing the adherence of those to whom it is addressed it is in its entirety relative to the audience to be influenced says Chaim Perelman and L Olbrechts Tyteca and they rely in particular for their theory of argumentation on the twin concepts of universal and particular audiences while every argument is directed to a specific individual or group the orator decides what information and what approaches will achieve the greatest adherence according to an ideal audience This ideal Perelman explains can be embodied for example in God in all reasonable and competent men in the man deliberating or in an elite Like particular audiences then the universal audience is never fixed or absolute but depends on the orator the content and goals of the argument and the particular audience to whom the argument is addressed These considerations determine what information constitutes facts and reasonableness and thus help to determine the universal audience that in turn shapes the orator's approach The adherence of an audience is also determined by the orator's use of values a further key concept of the New Rhetoric Perelman's treatment of value and his view of epideictic rhetoric sets his approach apart from that of the ancients and of Aristotle in particular Aristotle's division of rhetoric into three genres forensic deliberative and epideictic is largely motivated by the judgments required for each forensic or legal arguments require verdicts on past action deliberative or political rhetoric seeks judgment on future action and epideictic or ceremonial rhetoric concerns values associated with praise or blame and seeks no specific decisions For Aristotle the epideictic genre was of limited importance in the civic realm since it did not concern facts or policies Perelman in contrast believes not only that epideictic rhetoric warrants more attention but that the values normally limited to that genre are in fact central to all argumentation Epideictic oratory Perelman argues has significant and important argumentation for strengthening the disposition toward action by increasing adherence to the values it lauds These values are central to the persuasiveness of arguments in all rhetorical genres since the orator always attempts to establish a sense of communion centered around particular values recognized by the audience

Perelman's New Rhetoric as Philosophy and Methodology for the Next Century M. Maneli, 2013-03-14 Both Perelman's collaborators Professors Haarscher and Ingber shared with me their deep personal insights about origins birth and phases of the development of the New Rhetoric Without their good will advice and creative comments my personal knowledge would have been narrower I am grateful to the Chaim Perelman Foundation for their grant which enabled me to cover my expenses of collecting materials editing and preparing the manuscript Professor Michel Meyer was very instrumental in the negotiations with the publisher Mr Raphael Lipski treasurer of the Perelman Foundation spent many hours with me and shared his remembrances of Perelman's personality his social and political activity lowe special thanks to Dr Richard Kramer whose friendship I cherish for a quarter of a century He read and edited not only the entire text of the book but he offered many critical remarks and constructive suggestions which helped me to revise my own ideas and to formulate them more clearly and precisely The first critical reader and editor was as usual Mrs Elizabeth Previti Professor Elzbieta Ettinger Chodakowska MIT read this entire manuscript and shared with me her impressions

lowe special gratitude to my dear friend Mrs Stephanie Silvers for her steady help and moral support Needless to say I am solely responsible for all the deficiencies of this book

The Realm of Rhetoric Chaïm Perelman, 1982 The Realm of Rhetoric follows in the tradition of the author's The New Rhetoric hailed for its wide ranging and innovative approaches to argumentation In this new study Chaim Perelman continues to develop his ideas on the theory of rhetoric now even more cogently and persuasively presented Pruned of much detail present in the earlier book this new work captures the essence of his thought in a style and presentation suitable to the program and needs of an English speaking audience It is an ideal instruction medium for students approaching theories of informal argumentation for the first time Perelman raises the questions How do claims to reasonableness arise in prose that is not formally logical and What does reasonableness mean for some who speaks of reasonable men or beyond reasonable doubt He then shows how claims to rationality are embedded in a number of verbal structures heretofore considered exclusively ornamental or dispositional He identifies and discusses many argumentative techniques in addition to the quasi logical methods conventionally treated in textbooks and notes numerous subforms of argumentation within each of the general types he identifies

Rhetorics in the New Millennium James D. Hester, 2010-06-10 Some of the most renowned modern practitioners of New Testament rhetorical criticism including Elisabeth Schussler Fiorenza Wilhelm Wuellner and the editors themselves provide new rhetorical readings of New Testament texts Organized into three distinct sections Rhetorics in the New Millennium provides a cutting edge approach to this thorny issue in biblical studies The first section is a collection of three essays that are primarily theoretical in nature and concerned with examining general theories of rhetoric

The second section is a series of specific studies each using a different accepted theoretical model to analyze a given text. The final section presents valuable appendices which summarize information about the content of certain theoretical models of criticism. Finally a bibliography listing a wide variety of rhetorical critical studies and reference works is included.

Philosophy and the Passions Michel Meyer, Robert F. Barsky, 2000. The subject of the passions has always haunted Western philosophy and more often than not aroused harsh judgments. For the passions represent a force of excess and lawlessness in humanity that produces troubling, confusing paradoxes. In this book, noted European philosopher Michel Meyer offers a wide-ranging exegesis, the first of its kind, that systematically retraces the history of philosophic conceptions of the passions in the work of such thinkers as Plato, Aristotle, Augustine, Spinoza, Descartes, Hobbes, Rousseau, Kant, and Freud. The great ruptures that led to passion's condemnation as sin and to its romantic exultation as the truth of existence are meticulously registered, and the logic governing them astutely explicated. Meyer thus provides new insight into an age-old dilemma: Does passion torture people because it blinds them, or on the contrary, does it permit them to apprehend

The Institution of Philosophy Avner Cohen, Marcelo Dascal, 1989 Book jacket From postmodernist and post philosophical quarters we now hear that philosophy is at the end of its rope that modern philosophy is just another modernist product which has outlived its usefulness Whatever the precise merits of the various postmodernist critiques they have certainly compelled many philosophers to take notice and to concede that their enterprise has reached an impasse The essays in this volume mark a new stage in the debate Though divergent in their philosophical or post philosophical standpoints the authors all share the view that philosophy is at a fateful juncture Postmodernism pragmatism feminism and historicism are some of the tendencies scrutinized in this wide ranging symposium on the past present and many possible futures of the institution of philosophy     Symposium in Memory of Chaim Perelman Chaim Perelman, 1986
