Change Is Power:

MITIGATING CLIMATE CHANGE: THE POWER OF "WE THE PEOPLE" Adeniyi A. Afonja, Climate change is real and there are many natural processes that have caused severe changes over millions of years Fertile land has transformed into deserts some dry lands today were at one time under water and many places covered by water currently were dry lands We the People are not the cause of climate change but many of our activities are compromising the natural control processes of the Human Environment Systems energy production and use agriculture and land use deforestation prolific lifestyles that leave large carbon footprints The pressure is on governments worldwide to mitigate climate change but We the People hold the ace we use most of energy and consume most of the products of agriculture and our excesses are fueling demand for even more energy we fund the energy companies through our stocks and share investments and can moderate their excesses we elect the politicians and can influence their policies and through mass actions we have surmounted governments in many places or forced changes in policies we have the formidable weapon of the social media to effect change without stepping out The Climate Change Mitigation Movement is already in motion but We the People also need to moderate our choices and lifestyles in order to move the world to carbon neutrality which is a prerequisite for a sustainable environment Power Dynamics and Organizational Change Jaap J. Boonstra, Kilian M. Bennebroek Gravenhorst, 1998 This special issue of the European Journal of Work and Organizational Psychology is about power dynamics and organizational change In this issue theoretical models research findings and practical experiences are presented to examine power processes decision making influence tactics resistance to change management of change and effects of change processes in organizations The issue starts by discussing different perspectives on power and organizational change Eight contributions from six countries address a variety of issues The Electric Journal, 1927 The Refractionist, 1914 Federal Power Commission Reports United States.
