Changing Schools in an Era of Globalization John Chi-Kin Lee,Brian J. Caldwell,2012-04-27 Much has been written about globalization and the challenge of preparing young people for the new world of work and life in times of complexity and continuous change However few works have examined how globalization has and will continue to shape education in the East This volume discusses education within the context of globalization and examines what is occurring in schools and systems of education in the People s Republic of China Hong Kong Chinese Taipei Singapore and Australia Closer examination of recent developments and current trends reveal the same turbulence and a range of common issues in areas such as assessment curriculum leadership management of change pedagogy policy professional capacity and technology This volume demonstrates the commonalities and differences and offers tremendous insight into the way things are done in places where student achievement is high but there is also a sense of urgency in continuing an agenda of change Changing Schools Terry Wrigley,Pat Thomson,Robert Lingard,2011-08-09 Changing Schools places educational and social aims at the centre of a discussion of educational change It draws on fourteen case studies to explore school change which is oriented towards social justice and democracy In an age of global mobility economic polarization and unprecedented environmental and cultural challenges the education of all children and young people to higher levels has become a key issue of international policy Educational reform in such a context requires a serious rethinking and reworking of school and classroom practices Social justice is integral to the challenge of raising standards since this requires removing the ongoing influence of poverty on school success This thoughtful book presents new thinking and practice for bringing about school change drawn from diverse contexts around the world It distils and compares the experiences and theories in action of engaged teachers school principals and academics It seeks to challenge the dominance that human capital theories of school improvement currently hold on policy making The authors draw on contemporary innovations in practice and theory and also long standing traditions of alternative thinking and practice Linking together and articulating other ways of conceiving of and implementing school change the collection bases its findings on values of equality and global citizenship It shows how schools can work to make different languages knowledge narratives and truths integral to the mainstream curriculum everyday pedagogy assessment and general culture of the school Changing Schools is directed at all who are concerned with progressive school change and the promotion of democratic citizenship and social justice It will prove an invaluable source of inspiration for all involved in schools including teachers head teachers policy makers and those currently studying for school leadership positions Valuing Music in Education Charles Fowler,2017 Noted music education and arts activist Charles Fowler has inspired music educators for more than 60 years In this book editor Craig Resta brings together the most important of Fowler s writings from the journal Musical America for new generations of readers Here Fowler speaks to many
