McGoodwin, Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,2001-01-01 Small scale fishing accounts for almost 95% of the world's fishing and it has been estimated that small scale fishing activities support the livelihoods of more than 200 million people worldwide The purpose of this document is to help fisheries officials gain a clearer understanding of the cultures of small scale fishing communities It is hoped this will enable the development of more successful management policies and practices and empower people in such communities to improve their livelihoods The document highlights the importance of sustaining the rights of access to resources and the integration of cultural considerations into fisheries management policies It includes six case studies from distinct cultural regions of the world      Culture Sketches: Case Studies in Anthropology Holly Peters-Golden,2011-07-13 Ideal for any cultural anthropology course this brief collection of ethnographic case studies exposes students to 15 different cultures The groups selected are peoples whose traditional cultures are uniquely their own Each has distinctive patterns and practices each has faced the challenge of an encroaching world with differing results Moreover they often provide the prime illustrations of important concepts in introductory anthropology course including Azande witchcraft Ju hoansi egalitarianism Trobriand kula exchange and Minangkabau matriliney As such this volume can stand alone as an introduction to central ethnographic concepts through these 15 societies or serve as a valuable companion to anthropology texts Many of the peoples presented are involved in the diaspora some struggle to preserve old ways in new places All sketches follow a logical consistent organization that makes it easy for students to understand major themes such as history subsistence sociopolitical organization belief systems marriage kinship and contemporary issues      Native North American Cultures George Spindler,1977      Hawaiian Fishermen Edward W.
