Cultures of Curriculum Pamela Bolotin Joseph, VARIOS AUTORES, Stephanie Luster Bravmann, Mark A. Windschitl, Edward R. Mikel, Nancy Stewart Green, 1999-09-01 This text aims to deepen awareness of dilemmas of practice in curriculum work It is a suitable resource for students in curriculum theory and curriculum studies and should also enter the public discourse as readers bring its ideas and issues into their schools and communities Class, Culture and the Curriculum Denis Lawton, 2012-05-16 It is often argued that education is concerned with the transmission of middle class values and that this explains the relative educational failure of the working class Consequently distinctive culture needs a different kind of education This volume examines this claim and the wider question of culture in British society It analyses

cultural differences from a social historical viewpoint and considers the views of those applying the sociology of knowledge to educational problems The author recognizes the pervasive sub cultural differences in British society but maintains that education should ideally transmit knowledge which is relatively class free Curriculum is defined as a selection from the culture of a society and this selection should be appropriate for all children The proposed solution is a common culture curriculum and the author discusses three schools which are attempting to put the theory of such curriculum into practice This study is an incisive analysis of the relationships between class education and culture and also a clear exposition of the issues and pressures in developing a common culture curriculum Culture, Curriculum, and Identity in Education H. Milner,2010-03-01 This book analyzes equity and diversity in schools and teacher education Within this broad and necessary context the book raises some critical issues not previously explored in many multicultural and urban education texts
