Current Issues In Agricultural Economics:

Agricultural Economics Surendra N. Kulshreshtha, 2019-10-30 Agricultural Economics Current Issues is a review of topics related to the economics of agriculture in various parts of the world. It contains a total of seven chapters. These contributions are related to some of the significant current problems facing these regions. The book is divided into four parts. The first part is simply an introduction to the field of agricultural economics. It charts the development of the field from its origin of farm management economics to the current state of a variety of subjects in various parts of the world. In the second section an issue related to marketing is discussed. This is followed in the third section by an issue related to water resource economics. In the last section the remaining three chapters are devoted to agricultural environment related topics. All chapters present guidance for policymaking. Current Issues in Agricultural Economics A. J. Rayner, 1993-01-01 Some Current Issues in Agricultural Resource Economics Stephen Robert Harrison, S. R. Harrison, 1991 Current Issues in the Economics of Water Resource Management P. Pashardes, T.M. Swanson, A. Xepapadeas, 2013-04-17 The marginal price elasticities estimated by Martinez Espineira conforms to expectation. The price specification that accounts for the changing proportion of water users in each block yields a higher elasticity 0.47 compared to the specification ignoring this feature of the data. However, this difference is not found to be statistically significant, a result attributed to the low power of the test, small sample size limiting the accuracy of estimates. In conclusion, the paper provides a theoretically correct price specification for demand functions under block pricing and aggregate data. The empirical findings in the paper, however, are not conclusive and further empirical work using more data and alternative nonlinear demand functions is needed to show the practical implications of the arguments put forward by the Martinez Espineira's paper. Static empirical consumer demand functions estimated with aggregate data are well known to suffer from serial correlation and other statistical problems associated with misspecified dynamics. These dynamics arise because consumers do not react immediately to a change in prices due to their largely predetermined lifestyle. In the case of demand for water, for example, current purchases can be largely predetermined due to commitments arising from past purchases such as swimming pools, bathtubs, dishwashing machines, etc. Muellbauer and Pashardes (1992) show that the autoregressive nature of consumer demand data can be captured in a theoretically consistent manner by incorporating intertemporal aspects of consumer behaviour in the model through habit formation and durability.
