Current Issues in Clinical Psychology Eric Karas, 2012-12-06 This is the third volume in the series of books based on the Annual Merseyside Course in Clinical Psychology In common with its predecessors its aim is to present a number of topics of interest to practitioners researchers trainers and trainees in the field with the intent not only to inform but variously also to question and to guide further enquiry Selection for this volume has taken a somewhat different stance to the previous two Whereas in former volumes an attempt has been made to cover standard areas of general and scientific interest to psychologists and others in related professions such as anorexia nervosa forensic issues long term care mental handicap community psychology anxiety and depression in this one issues which are of equal relevance but not necessarily of equal prominence in psychological texts are included We have not however neglected those areas more readily recognized as of major clinical import which are being progressively covered in this series This year we have the section Bereavement and the Care of the Dying Although for many this may not be a main focus it is a subject that few helpers do not encounter either directly or indirectly with their clients It would be impossible for this subject to not reflect the most human side of the caring professions and it is perhaps in this field that the objective subjective dilemma of the clinician can be seen in its most acute form

Current Issues in Clinical Psychology Eric Karas,2012-12-06 This book is the second volume in the series Current Issues in Clinical Psychology which is designed to build into a composite text of the field of clinical psychology The contents of the series are based on the post qualification training conferences held each autumn in Merseyside These events organised by a sub group of the training committee of the Mersey Regional Group of Clinical Psychologists are unique in that they are the only annual psychology conferences in Britain focussing exclusively on clinical areas The opening paper of Volume 1 of the series emphasised the importance of the present disposition towards sustained clinical training for practising psychologists The series Current Issues in Clinical Psychology represents a contribution to this trend by offering practitioners an opportunity to assimilate innovations in clinical theory and practice in the young but vigorously developing discipline of clinical psychology In order to provide a forum for contemporary issues and also to produce complementary texts of lasting value it has been necessary to carefully select both the theme of each symposium and contributors able to fulfill these aims

Current Issues in Clinical Psychology Eric Karas, 2013-05-01 This is the third volume in the series of books based on the Annual Merseyside Course in Clinical Psychology. In common with its predecessors its aim is to present a number of topics of interest to practitioners, researchers, trainers and trainees in the field with the intent not only to inform but variously also to question and to guide further enquiry. Selection for this volume has taken a somewhat different stance to the previous two. Whereas in former volumes an attempt has been made to cover standard areas of general and scientific interest to psychologists and others in related professions such as anorexia nervosa, forensic issues, long term care, mental handicap, community psychology, anxiety and depression, in this one issues which are of equal relevance but not necessarily of equal prominence in psychological texts are included. We have not however neglected those areas more readily recognized as of major clinical import which are being progressively covered in this series. This year we have the section Bereavement and the Care of the Dying. Although for many this may not be a main focus it is a subject that few helpers do not encounter either directly or indirectly with their clients. It would be impossible for this subject to not reflect the most human side of the caring professions and it is perhaps in this field that the objective/subjective dilemma of the clinician can be seen in its most acute form.

Current Issues in Clinical Psychology Eric Karas, 2012-12-06 In January 1980 a Refresher Course in Clinical Psychology was held in Liverpool. The aim of the course was to apply a contemporary perspective to issues of significance and interest to clinical psychologists in Britain and more specifically to afford the opportunity for past graduates in clinical psychology from Liverpool University to meet together to share their working experiences. Following the success of this event it was decided by the Mersey Regional Group of Clinical Psychologists to embark upon a long term project: The Annual Merseyside Course in Clinical Psychology as a means to provide a post qualification training forum for practitioners of clinical psychology and related professions. In the tradition of the refresher course it was designed to impart to its delegates and to readers of this book the most recent ideas in a variety of fields of enquiry within clinical practice and theory. The growing emphasis on post qualification training from within the clinical psychology profession marks an important milestone in its development and the inception of this course reflects this growth by fulfilling its further purpose of providing a regular platform from which national and international innovations and developments can be presented and discussed.
