Yeoh, Michiel Baas, 2023-03-31 Selecting migrants based on skill has become a widely practised migration policy in many countries around the world Since the late 20th century research on skilled and highly skilled migration has raised important questions about the value and ethics of skill based labour mobility More recent research has begun to question the concept of skill and skill categorisation in both government policy and academic research Taking the view that skills are socially constructed categories and highly malleable concepts in practice this edited volume centres the discussion on the following questions Who are the arbitrators of skill What constitutes skill And how is skill constructed in the migration process and in turn how does skill affect the mobility The empirical studies in this volume show that diverse actors are involved in the process of identifying evaluating and shaping migrant skill The interpretation of migrants skill is frequently distorted by their ascriptive characteristics such as race ethnicity gender and nationality reflecting the influence of colonial legacy global inequality as well as social stratification Finally this edited volume emphasises the complex and frequently reciprocal relationship between skill and mobility This book will be of interest to researchers and advanced students of Sociology Human Geography Politics Social Anthropology Economics and Social Work It was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Ethnic and Migration Studies NGO Discourses in the Debate on Genetically Modified Crops Ksenia Gerasimova, 2017-07-20 The development and use of genetically modified organisms GMOs has been a contentious topic for the last three decades While there have been a number of social science analyses of the issues this is the first book to assess the role of Non Governmental Organizations NGOs in the debate at such a wide geographic scale The various positions for and against GMOs particularly with regard to transgenic crops articulated by NGOs in the debate are dissected classified and juxtaposed to corresponding campaigns These are discussed in the context of key conceptual paradigms including nature fundamentalism and the organic movement post colonialism food sovereignty anti globalisation sustainability and feminism The book also analyses how NGOs interpret the debate and the persuasive communication tactics they use This provides greater understanding of the complexity of negotiations in the debate and explains its specific features such as its global scope and difficulty in finding compromises The author assesses the long term interests of various participants and changes in perceptions of science and in public communication as a result Examples of major NGOs such as Greenpeace Oxfam and WWF are included but the author also provides new research into the role of NGOs in Russia Feeding New Orleans Jeanne K. Firth, 2023-12-05 After Hurricane Katrina in 2005 many high profile chefs in New Orleans pledged to help their city rebound from the flooding Several formed their own charitable organizations including the John Besh Foundation to help revitalize the region and its restaurant scene. A year and a half after the disaster when the total number of open restaurants eclipsed the pre-Katrina count, it was embraced as a sign that the city itself had survived and these chefs arguably became the de facto heroes of the city's recovery. Meanwhile, food justice organizations tried to tap into the city's legendary food culture to fundraise, marketing high-end dining events that centered these celebrity chefs. Jeanne K. Firth documents the growth of celebrity humanitarianism, viewing the phenomenon through the lens of feminist ethnography to understand how elite philanthropy is raced, classed, and gendered. Firth finds that cultures of sexism in the restaurant industry also infuse chef-led philanthropic initiatives. As she examines this particular flavor of elite, celebrity-based philanthropy, Firth illuminates the troubled relationships between consumerism, food justice movements, and public-private partnerships in development and humanitarian aid.

Unpalatable Carrie Helms Tippen, 2025-01-15. The cookbook genre is highly conventional with an orientation toward celebration and success. From glossy photographs to heartwarming stories and adjective-rich ingredient lists, the cookbook tradition primes readers for pleasure. Yet the overarching narrative of the region is often one of pain, loss, privation, exploitation, poverty, and suffering of various kinds. While some cookbook writers go to great lengths to avoid reminding readers of this painful past, others invoke that pain as a marker of southern authenticity. Still others use stories of southern suffering as an opportunity to make space for reconciliation, reparation, or apology for past wrongs. In Unpalatable: Stories of Pain and Pleasure in Southern Cookbooks, author Carrie Helms Tippen attempts to understand the unique rhetorical situation of the southern cookbook as it negotiates a tension between the expectations of the genre and the prevailing metanarratives of the southern experience, one focused on pleasure and the other rooted in pain. Through an analysis of commercially published southern cookbooks from the 1990s to the present, Tippen examines the range of rhetorical purposes and strategies writers have employed, some of which undermine the reality of a painful past and cause harm or violence, and others which serve as tools for truth and reconciliation.

Discriminating Taste S. Margot Finn, 2017-04-24. For the past four decades, increasing numbers of Americans have started paying greater attention to the food they eat, buying organic vegetables, drinking fine wines, and seeking out exotic cuisines. Yet they are often equally passionate about the items they refuse to eat: processed foods, generic brands, high-carb meals. While they may care deeply about issues like nutrition and sustainable agriculture, these discriminating diners also seek to differentiate themselves from the unrefined eater, the common person who lives on junk food. Discriminating Taste argues that the rise of gourmet, ethnic, diet, and organic foods must be understood in tandem with the ever-widening income inequality gap. Offering an illuminating historical perspective on our current food trends, S. Margot Finn draws numerous parallels with the Gilded Age of the late nineteenth century, an era infamous for its class divisions when gourmet dinners, international cuisines, slimming diets, and pure foods first became fads. Examining a diverse set of cultural touchstones ranging from Ratatouille to The Biggest Loser, Finn identifies the key ways that good food has become conflated with high status She also considers how these taste hierarchies serve as a distraction leading middle class professionals to focus on small acts of glamorous and virtuous consumption while ignoring their class's larger economic stagnation A provocative look at the ideology of contemporary food culture Discriminating Taste teaches us to question the maxim that you are what you eat Culinary Capital ,2004 The Food of Oaxaca Alejandro Ruiz,Carla Altesor,2021-03-16 IACP Cookbook Award Winner A groundbreaking cookbook celebrating the distinctive cuisine and culture of Oaxaca from one of Mexico's most revered chefs With a foreword by Enrique Olvera In The Food of Oaxaca acclaimed chef Alejandro Ruiz shares the cuisine of Mexico's culinary capital through fifty recipes both traditional and original Divided into three parts the book covers the classic dishes of the region the cuisine of the coast and the food Ruiz serves today at his beloved restaurant Casa Oaxaca Here are recipes for making your own tortillas and for preparing tamales salsas and moles as well as Ruiz's own creations such as Duck Tacos with Coloradito Shrimp Nopal Fava Bean and Pea Soup and Oaxacan Chocolate Mousse Also included are thoughtful essays on dishes ingredients kitchen tools and traditions recommendations on where to eat and a comprehensive glossary to help fully immerse readers in the food of Oaxaca making this an indispensable volume for home cooks and travelers alike Never Trust a Thin Cook and Other Lessons from Italy's Culinary Capital Eric Dregni,2009-09-01 The food obsessed chronicle of an American's three years in Italy now available in paperback I simply want to live in the place with the best food in the world This dream led Eric Dregni to Italy first to Milan and eventually to a small fog covered town to the north Modena the birthplace of balsamic vinegar Ferrari and Luciano Pavarotti Never Trust a Thin Cook is a classic American abroad tale brimming with adventures both expected and unexpected awkward social moments and most important very good food Parmesan thieves Tortellini based on the shape of Venus's navel Infiltrating the secret world of the balsamic vinegar elite Life in Modena is a long way from the Leaning Tower of Pizza the south Minneapolis pizzeria where Eric and his girlfriend and fellow traveler Katy first met and while some Italians are impressed that Minnesota sounds like minestrone they are soon learning what it means to live in a country where the word safe doesn't actually exist only less dangerous Thankfully another meal is always waiting and Dregni revels in uncorking the secrets of Italian cuisine such as how to guzzle espresso corrected with grappa and learning that mold really does make a good salami great What begins as a gastronomical quest soon becomes a revealing authentic portrait of how Italians live and a hilarious demonstration of how American and Italian cultures differ In Never Trust a Thin Cook Eric Dregni dishes up the sometimes wild experiences of living abroad alongside the simple pleasures of Italian culture in perfect complementary portions A Book of Famous Old New Orleans Recipes Used in the South for More Than 200 Years ,1900 The Doherty News ,1925 Bon Appétit ,1999 Dress & Vanity Fair ,1929 Culinary Schools Peterson's Guides,Peterson's Guides Staff,Peterson's,2007-01-07 Detailed program listings of accredited Culinary Schools [The ...
