Culture Town:

Culture and the City Deborah Stevenson, Amie Matthews, 2013-09-13 This edited collection will examine the way in which cities are imagined experienced and shaped by those who reside within them those who manage or govern them and those who as visitor tourist or traveller pass through them Attention will be paid to the influence that these various inhabitants have on city life and living and the dialectic that exists between their sometimes collective and sometimes divergent perceptions and uses of city space In conjunction with this the collection will explore the ways in which local culture and cultural policy are used by public and private interests as the framework for changing the image and amenity of the city in order to raise its profile and attract tourists The book contributes to discussions of the increasingly high profile place that cultural programs have in urban regeneration initiatives and explore the tensions conflicts and negotiations that emerge in urban spaces as a result of policy and culture coming together Papers will be sought from researchers around the world with a view to examining the nexus between tourism leisure and cultural programming from a number of perspectives and with reference to a range of international case studies This book was published as a special issue of the Journal of Policy Research in Tourism Leisure and Events

Community Arts and Culture Initiatives in Singapore Zdravko Trivic, 2020-09-15 What Can Space Do for the Arts What Can Arts Do for Space and What Can Arts and Space Do for the Community Through the lenses of creative placemaking and neighbourhood arts ecology Trivic re examines the position of community arts in the spatial social and cultural landscape Emphasising urban design considerations of complex interdependent relationships between arts space and people he re explores the role of community based arts activities in shaping urban neighbourhoods enriching public life and empowering communities This is divided into an analysis of spatial opportunities for the arts in the neighbourhood and a study of the impacts of bringing arts and culture activities into local neighbourhoods and communities using Singapore's nodal approach as a developed case study Using spatial opportunity analysis the book demonstrates a step by step procedure for identification and evaluation of the neighbourhood spaces that work best for community arts and culture activities In the study of impacts Trivic proposes a holistic framework for capturing and evaluating the non economic impacts of arts and culture on space society well being education and participation An invaluable template for arts event organisers and artists to assess and maximise the outcomes of their creative efforts in local neighbourhoods as well as an important reading for students and practitioners of neighbourhood planning urban design and creative placemaking

Northrop Frye's Student Essays, 1932-1938 Northrop Frye, 2014-05-01 Frye was a person of uncommon gifts and very little that came from his pen is without interest So writes Robert Denham in his introduction to this unique collection of twenty two papers written by Northrop Frye during his student years Made public only after Frye's death in 1991 all but one of the essays are published here for the first time The majority of these papers were written for courses at Emmanuel College the theology school of Victoria College at the University of Toronto Essays such as The Concept of Sacrifice The Fertility Cults and The Jewish Background of the New Testament reveal the links between Frye's early research in theology and the form and content of his later criticism It is clear that even as a theology student Frye's first impulse was always that of the cultural critic The papers on Calvin Eliot Chaucer Wyndham Lewis and on the forms of prose fiction show Frye as precociously witty rigorous and incisive a gifted writer who clearly found his voice before his last undergraduate year David Lodge wrote in the New Statesman There are not many critics whose twenty year old book reviews one can read with pleasure and instruction but Frye is an exception to most rules Northrop Frye's student essays provide pleasure and instruction through their comments on the Augustinian view of history on beauty truth and goodness on literary symbolism and tradition

A Study of Prehistoric Settlement Patterns in China
Anping Pei,2020-04-07 This book is the first ever monograph on clustering patterns in prehistoric settlements It not only theoretically explains the difference between natural settlement communities and organizational forms for the first time but also demonstrates the importance of understanding this difference in practical research Based on extensive archaeological data from China and focusing on the evolution of prehistoric settlements and changing social relations the book completely breaks with the globally popular research mode which is based on the assumption that settlement archaeology has nothing to do with prehistoric social organization In terms of research methods the book also abandons the globally popular method of measuring the grade and importance of settlements according to their size and the value of the unearthed objects Instead it focuses on understanding settlements attributes from the combined perspective of the group and individuals On the one hand the book proves that the clustering patterns in prehistoric settlement sites reflect the organizational forms of the time on the other it demonstrates that historical research focusing on the organizational forms of prehistoric societies is closer to the historical reality and of more scientific value The intended readership includes graduates and researchers in the field of archaeology or those who are interested in cultural relics and prehistoric settlements
