The Imprisonment of African American Women Catherine Fisher Collins, 1997-01-01

The plight of imprisoned African American women is detailed in this study. It is apparent that the nation's prison systems are ill equipped to meet the basic needs of the ever growing female population and that government has done very little to address the underlying causes of crime. Child care, medical conditions, the historical plight of incarcerated African American women, alternatives to prisons and future trends are also covered. The primary research is supported by the author's survey of prison populations. Current Law Index, 2000. American Prisons and Jails Vidisha Barua Worley, Robert M.

Worley, 2018-12-07. This two volume encyclopedia provides a comprehensive and authoritative examination of the history and current character of American prisons and jails and their place in the U.S. corrections system. This encyclopedia provides a rigorous and comprehensive summary of correctional systems and practices and their evolution throughout US history. Topics include sentencing norms and contemporary developments, differences between local jails and prisons and regional, state and federal systems, violent and nonviolent inmate populations, operations of state and federal prisons including well known prisons such as ADX Florence, Alcatraz, Attica, Leavenworth and San Quentin, privately run for profit prisons as well as the companies that run them, inmate culture including prisoner generated social hierarchies, prisoner slang, gangs, drug use and violence, prison trends and statistics including racial, ethnic, age, gender and educational breakdowns, the death penalty and post incarceration outcomes including recidivism. The set showcases contributions from some of the leading scholars in the fields of correctional systems and practices and will be a valuable resource for anyone interested in learning more about American prisons, jails and community corrections. Resource Material Series, 2002.
