Another Way to Live James S. Best,1978 Pendle Hill Pamphlet[s],1995 In the Company of Others Claude Whitmyer,1993 The Ecology of Learning John Blewitt,2006 A key starting point for understanding and achieving sustainability are our experiences of everyday life the meanings and the connections we develop and the learning and action these experiences engender This book explores how learning throughout and across life is and may become an integral aspect of the process of sustainable development It addresses the need for life long learning that is learning that occurs in various aspects of our lives including work families home community groups or any non traditional school or learning environments to seriously engage with sustainability issues Coverage includes the relationship between learning and sustainability sustainability and everyday life environmental mediascapes public space and landscapes learning networks and community action sustainability learning and leisure work and the need to reshape our understanding of a learning society The breadth is impressive with an approachable and easy to read engagement with theoretical approaches to lifelong learning and sustainability and a vast range of evidence and case studies drawn from dozens of contexts in the UK Europe the USA and Canada Handbook of Community Movements and Local Organizations Ram A. Cnaan,Carl Milofsky,2007-12-18 Although the way associations and the organization of local social life are intertwined is one of the oldest approaches to community study the way citizens and residents come together informally to act and solve problems has rarely been a primary focus Associations are central to important and developing areas of social theory and social action This handbook takes voluntary associations as the starting point for making sense of communities It offers a new perspective on voluntary organizations and gives an integrated yet diverse theoretical understanding of this important aspect of community life Shared Houses, Shared Lives Eric Raimy,1979 This book describes the origins of the communal household explores the significance of this growing phenomenon and offers the reader a comprehensive guide to joining or setting up a shared household Catalog of Copyright Entries, Fourth Series Library of Congress. Copyright Office,1978-04 Friends Journal,2002 Mennonite Life Cornelius Krahn,1984 Reflections from Africa Chad Northington,2011 Several years ago Chad and Tiffany embarked on an incredible journey that eventually led them to Cameroon Africa where they served with the national church in providing clean water health care and hope to the Cameroonian people through sustainable transformational development During their time there they stood before kings sat with lepers and slept with refugees They are ordinary people following extraordinary commands to love our God and love our neighbor This book is a collection of cultural and spiritual reflections gathered over the course of their first year in Africa It is their hope that these reflections will serve as encouragement instruction and entertainment for anyone considering an experience in a developing country in the role of a development worker humanitarian or missionary Bulletin of Bibliography,1993 Coming Home Malcolm Brown,Graham Tomlin,2020-10-30 Everyone has an interest in housing because we all live in some kind of home While there has been plenty of theological reflection on the natural environment there has been little on the built environment or on a theology of housing Addressing the urgent problems of housing inequality and affordability Coming Home proposes a practical and biblical theology of housing provision as an essential part of community building It explores the purpose of home and housing today housing and human flourishing shared living and neighbourliness It asks how and why the church should contribute to local and national housing policy and thus to building community life and offers case studies in community action Contributors include Samuel Wells Timothy Gorringer Niamh Colbrook Selina Stone Angus Ritchie and Shermana Fletcher of the Centre for Theology and Community Collectively they bring theology and practice together
