Specific contents:

Duties of the literature reader:

- Become an active member of a community of literature readers:
 - Read, listen to reading, or share the reading of various works.
 - Confront with others one's own interpretation. Discover - based on the exchange of opinions – that the same work allows for various interpretations. Anticipate the content of the story based on the information provided by the paratext and verify the anticipations as one progresses in the reading.
- Cooperate with the author in the construction of the meaning of the literary text.
- Value literary reading as an aesthetic experience.
- Adapt the reading modality to the purpose, to the genre or subgenre to which the work belongs, type of text.

Speaker's chores in interpersonal contexts:

- Expressing emotions through language.
- Comment: to take the floor to express an opinion, to share impressions personal, draw conclusions based on what has been read.

Contents:

- Different types of narrators in literary texts (stories): third-person narrator (omniscient narrator and observer narrator) and first-person narrator (narrator protagonist and witness narrator). Their characteristics.

Purposes:

- Generate conditions for students to perform as full readers of literature and allow to know other possible worlds.
- Contribute to helping the kids identify the different narrators that appear in the works addressed, account for their characteristics, and understand the difference between author and narrator of a literary work.

Routledge Encyclopedia of Narrative Theory David Herman, Manfred Jahn, Marie-Laure Ryan, 2010-06-10 The past several decades have seen an explosion of interest in narrative with this multifaceted object of inquiry becoming a central concern in a wide range of disciplinary fields and research contexts As accounts of what happened to particular people in particular circumstances and with specific consequences stories have come to be viewed as a basic human strategy for coming to terms with time process and change However the very predominance of narrative as a focus of interest across multiple disciplines makes it imperative for scholars teachers and students to have access to a comprehensive reference resource

The Textual Townsman Thomas Gaubatz, 2025-12-09 In the late seventeenth century Japan's cities were sites of vast diversity and dynamism Following decades of explosive urbanization individuals of different occupations and economic strata came to rethink their relationships with other members of the urban community and old modes of local affiliation gave way to newly capacious forms of urban identity These emergent social imaginaries were inextricably intertwined with the commercial circulation of woodblock printed texts This interplay of the social the spatial and the textual gave shape to a new social type the Tokugawa townsman In this innovative and interdisciplinary book Thomas Gaubatz offers a fresh approach to understanding the literature of the Tokugawa townspeople Ranging across history literature and print culture including richly contextualized close readings of the works of Ihara Saikaku and Ejima Kiseki he shows that popular fiction made sense of the urban world by modeling how individuals could refashion themselves through the performance of shared norms Challenging the assumption that townsman literature was a voice of resistance to official ideology and warrior authority Gaubatz argues that print fiction functioned to articulate new identities legitimate emerging forms of social power and symbolically contain the tensions and hierarchies within the urban community and the contradictions within the townsman self Through this vision of textual self fashioning The Textual Townsman develops a radically new account of the politics of popular fiction in Tokugawa status society
